HUGHES IN OUR TIME

AMID the turmoil of a world at war, two thousand five hundred students daily attend classes in an American high school. Throughout the universe, war is raging. In America, millions of people are leading strange, new lives and working day and night to help speed victory. Millions of boys and young women are serving the country on far-flung battle-fronts.

America is at war!

Millions of bonds and war stamps are being sold to preserve America. To meet the emergency, engineers, doctors, and lawyers are taking their places for war and the post-war world.

America is at war!

As each household routine is changing, so are the schools of America. A drastically different war emphasis is placed on the American school. 1944 climaxed the war-time preparedness of high schools.

HUGHES is only one of thousands of city high schools that entered into a changed routine. This record, "Hughes in Our Time," portrays Hughes in its daily war activities and curriculum for war — and, we hope for a peace that is lasting.

Following close upon the outbreak in the Pacific, Hughes students experienced a more concentrated program, six one-hour bells. With the advent of this program, came such new courses as aeronautics, a study of the principles of flight, investigation and solution of these laws; navigation, a mathematical subject, plotting courses and finding positions; and radio code, to aid the Army to train radiomen and mechanics with greater facility and relieve the demand for people with such experience.

Greater emphasis was placed on the commercial courses which will replace men and women in the service and aid businessmen in this crisis.

The language department was changed from a heavy college preparatory course, to a streamlined program of Spanish and French. Spanish needed to aid the increasing South American trade, and French used in European legation work. The Latin continued as the basis for the other language training.

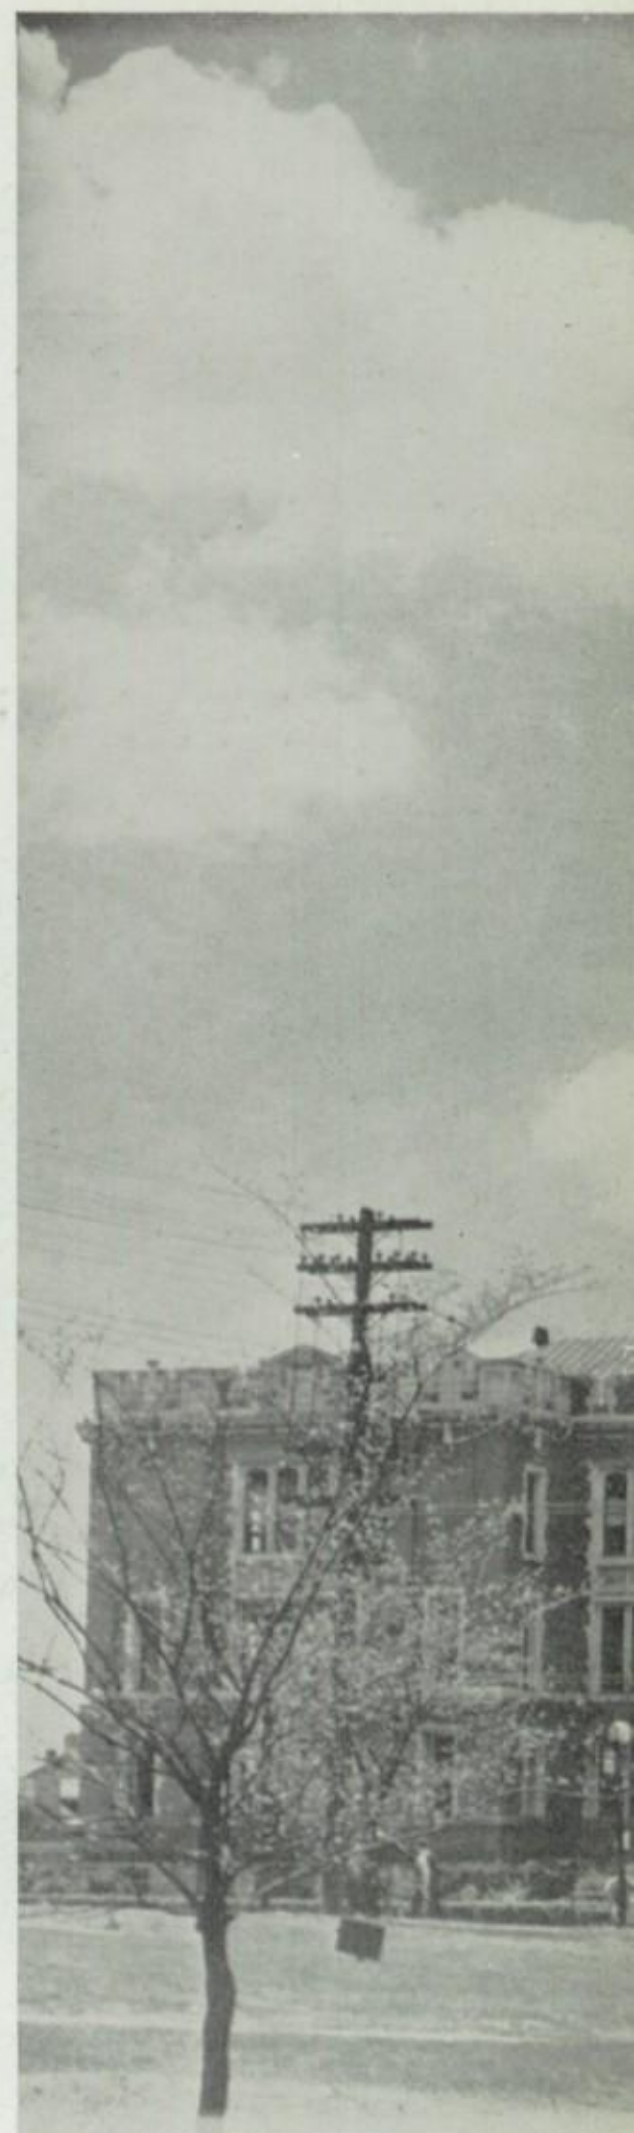

Machine shop and mechanical drawing was enlarged to accommodate the need for skilled engineers and machinists.

An expanding program opened a new road to students to take special aviation courses after school and receive graduation credits.

For publicity and display purposes, the Art Department's program was adjusted to furnish the school and government with war bond posters and valuable conjunctions to "Quiet! The enemy's listening!"

Hughes in 1944, and the year of war preceding, has undergone a transformation from a peacetime American school program to the brisk tempo of activity for a world at war.

"Hughes in Our Time," in 1944, a war year, presents the following pictorial record of the life of twenty-five hundred students with its typical war time emphasis.

EVERY bright, sunny day in fall and spring and even when the ground is covered with snow, the front steps of Hughes are filled with students talking, knitting, and joking. On the south lawn bordering McMillan street, boys and girls take a little promenade during the fourth bell and occasionally rest on the lawns in warm weather. The Deaconess Hospital is located on the north side of Old Hughes. This shady portion is always quiet, because students, in an effort not to disturb the hospital, do not gather here. Sitting on the great stone ledges or standing on the front plaza, one sees the University of Cincinnati spread over its great span of territory. Directly across from Hughes is the U. C. Law School. Daily at the end of the lunch period students watch the Air Corps Cadets march through the University grounds to class. A usual sight to Huzites are the nurses next door hurrying to go on duty. There is an ever-present hum of street cars. From the north and outlying suburbs comes the Clifton-Ludlow and from the east and all transfer points in that direction comes the Crosstown. Whether it be before 8:30 A.M., fourth bell or after school, the walks and front steps of Hughes are always crowded with busy students in friendly gatherings.

WHEN the rainy season is in its glory, or the weather is too chilly for outside gatherings, the front hall is the scene of laughing cliques. Packed close together sitting on either side of the hall, students do everything from studying chemistry to playing games. Others standing in the front hall catch up on assignments and make dates for the week end. On both sides of the hall are the stands which carry announcements of interest. During football and basketball season, there is always a gay poster about the next game. Posters for plays, movies, war stamp sales and even announcements of available jobs are posted here. Oftimes a large glass case is placed in the hall displaying some war project of the home economics classes, or scrapbooks by the art classes for the armed forces. During football season every day that a game is to be played, a corner of the hall is turned over to the Hughes Club and Pep Club to sell shakers, noise makers, Hughes stickers, pennants, and buttons. In flower season, early morning flower sales are held by the botany department from our own Hughes greenhouse. To the visitor at Hughes a greeting is given by the two senior girls at the desk marked "Information." When the bell rings, people move. The fifth bell, the great front hall is indeed a deserted part of Hughes until three o'clock when student activity again takes over.

WHILE the machines were humming and the assembly lines were moving steadily, the newly organized Victory Corps for high school students was efficiently conducting numerous drives for old iron, brass, copper, coat hangers, and all types of metal, to keep the machines humming and the line moving. Paper drives were held from time to time to meet shortages. A different phase of war emphasis was the weekly sale of war bonds and stamps. Homerooms competed and some strived to meet goals, such as 200 rifles or a jeep and always trying to score 100% participation. Auditorium assemblies have a war-time significance as speakers from all parts of the world and war zones were brought to the platform to tell their experiences or describe homelands. A special pre-induction course for the older boys was given to familiarize them with all branches of service. The girls heard lectures by members of the women's branches of the armed services as well as by nurses, college heads, and professional women. In the second semester, courses in hygiene and army regulations and contacts were given the senior boys. A similar course in hygiene and other business world contacts was given the senior girls. By accelerated programs, students were enabled to complete their graduation credits by February and graduate at the half-year, a chance to finish graduation credits as well as complete a college foundation. The girls were studying to take important positions vacated by servicemen. Several hundred students were excused early or all day during December to serve as salespeople in department stores and aid the Post Office in the distribution of the holiday mail.

ONE of the war services which brought many new experiences was the organization of an air raid group last year to provide protection from bombing. At Hughes, as in other large buildings, every room was given a specific space on the inner floors and basements. During practice drills the large corps of wardens constantly patrolled the halls and kept stations at the fire extinguishers and sand buckets for protection against possible incendiary bombs. In conjunction with air raids, First Aid became a timely and helpful course. At first, voluntary classes were held after school; but as the importance of this training became greater, all the juniors were given the course to replace one of their gym bells.

MUSICAL organizations had their share in the transformation. From classical ballads to inspiring service songs, the A Cappella Choir paved the way. At a special appearance at the Union Terminal last Christmas, the choir entertained the soldiers arriving and leaving with a program of carols. An Armistice day observance was given at Emery Auditorium. "Bonds-A-Poppin'", the bond rally, scored a huge hit as an aid to the war stamp sale. The day before the show, the stamp sale soared above the $1000 goal. Highlighting the war program, of the choir was the cutting of a record of Christmas carols. The songs were broadcast and the records sent to the boys on Guadalcanal.

A quiet corner in the solitude of the front hall shows the marble panels on either side with the latticed Rookwood seats, a memorial of World War I. A beautiful frieze depicting ancient customs covers the top. Along the graceful arches, the coat of arms of the days of chivalry are carved in stone, with scrolled plumes surrounding them. In the center of the mosaic tile floor stands the lofty welcome to old Hughes, the Winged Victory.

To lead the school in the pledge to the flag, our color bearers, Ed Heineman, Vincent Jennewein, and William Geyer have always been on hand. Explanation of all branches of the armed forces, descriptions of harrowing flights from occupied countries, movies and lectures about all parts of the globe have been features of the school assemblies. Student town meetings, patriotic pageants, and civic improvement discussions have given the student body an opportunity to participate.

MANY years ago a nondescript little man left his native land of England for the United States. This man, a cobbler by trade, settled in Cincinnati, and lived his uneventful span of life, alone and unbefriended. At the time of his death in 1824, he probably never dreamed that out of his effort to further the cause of public education, would result the stately building on the hill, vast and well equipped. Thomas Hughes left, by will, all his property to the city, requesting that it be used to further the public education of youth. At first this money helped send students, poor but eager to improve their minds, to Woodward College. In 1847, Central High School was organized in the basement of a Lutheran Church, with Mr. H. H. Barney the principal.

Thomas Hughes' dream of free education was finally realized in 1851 when, as free public high schools, Woodward and Hughes were established by the Union Board of High Schools. From Greenwood Hall at Sixth and Vine Streets was graduated the first class of Hughes High School in 1852. On January 17, 1853 was dedicated the first Hughes High School building, located on Fifth Street opposite Mound Street. A steady increase in the number of students brought about a realization that a larger and a more modern building must be erected. As a result, in 1910 at the corner of Clifton Avenue and McMillan Street, a building in the Tudor-Gothic style was completed, costing $1,000,000 and accommodating fifteen hundred pupils. In 1925 a large wing was added; it is still known as the new building. Today Hughes High School boasts an illustrious history of almost a century. Eight competent men have held the position of principal, and have become loved and revered in the minds of many. Let us not forget, as we leave Hughes High School, an American institution, to make our way in the world, that we owe a great debt to that humble cobbler, Thomas Hughes, who had a vision of free education for the people.

At his desk, Mr. Otterman is always ready to help students seeking wise counsel, advice or encouragement.

CHARLES OTTERMANN, Principal
Charles Ottermann

It is a common experience that no matter what one's age may be, our high school days are remembered. This seems especially true when these years include events of great emotional or national import, such as a war.

Our editors, with a fine sense of timeliness, have caught with picture or descriptive word, scenes which in later time will make vivid for you or any future reader the memories of the many activities at our Hughes in this fateful war year.

May it always bring a sense of gratitude that we were able to help a little in the great cause in which so many of our boys and girls are serving in all parts of this war torn world.

Charles Ottermann

Dean of Girls

Tearing off excuse blanks, chuckling over a note of doubtful origin, and sharpening pencils to continue the necessary "slip from the office" keep Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Havlovic busy every morning. Long lines of tardy and absent students stand waiting their turn to enter Room 110, and fourth door, left, main hall.

Mrs. Robinson, dean of girls, has the responsibility of helping the girls solve their perplexing problems. She keeps in contact with all of them and counsels them wisely. She takes care of scholarships and gives helpful advice to senior girls concerning their lives after graduation. With a smile that radiates kindness, Mrs. Robinson tackles each job.

Although the title assistant principal suggests dignity, Mr. Havlovic is the genial friend of all. Being adviser to freshman boys is one of his important tasks. The senior boys all know him as "Mr. Gus," sponsor of the Hughes Club. Added to this burden is the responsibility of the important Victory Corps.

Students who are graduated this year will go from Hughes to a world which will demand all their loyalty and capacity for self-sacrifice. Remember your school has taught you to serve "God and Country," and to keep your freedom by accepting responsibility.

Arthur J. Havlovic

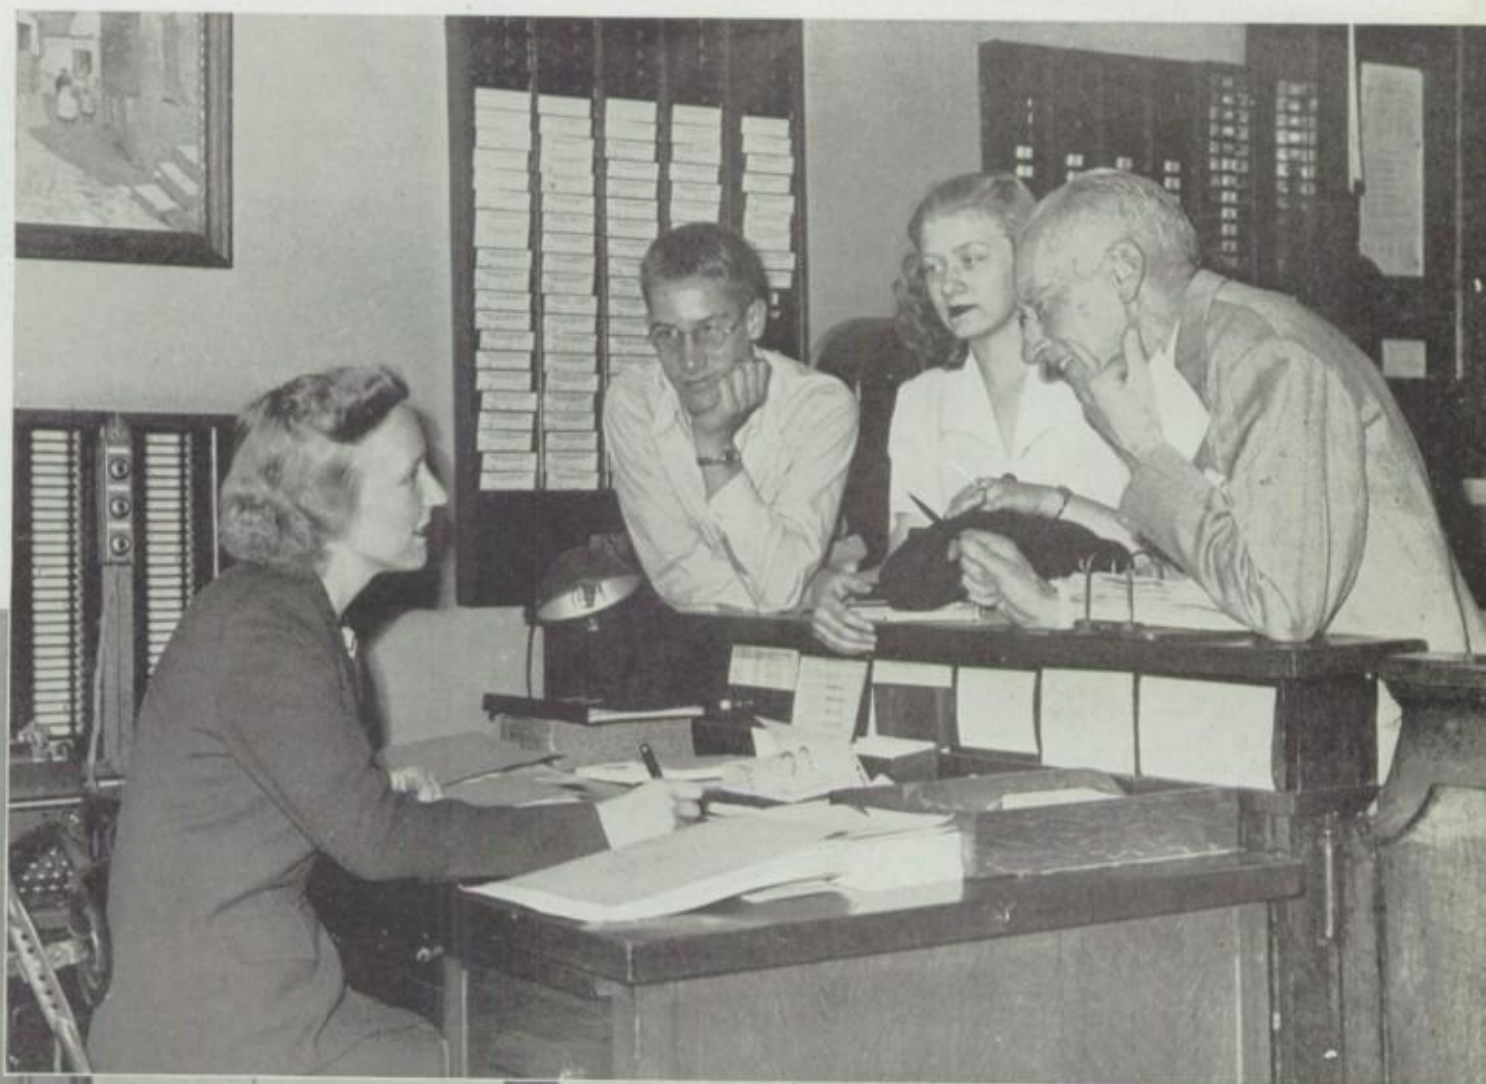

With high hopes for the future happiness and usefulness of the class of nineteen hundred and forty-four.

Sincerely,
Elma R. Robinson

In the outer office, answering phone calls and questions, keeping records and typing busily, Miss Rowland presides pleasantly. Mr. Burke, Ethel Breithold, and Edward Wagner have stopped at the desk. Below Mr. Arthur J. Havlovic, Assistant Principal discusses future Hughes Club meetings with the officers.

Be it a volume of science, a history of civilization, a novel, or the latest in fiction, the Clara B. Jordan library is sure to have it. The Hughes library is kept up-to-date with recent books on the war. Miss Banes and Miss Shaffer supply the help necessary to solve the many perplexing problems that students bring to their school library.

Classes in woodworking and cabinet making besides building desks, tables, chairs, have completed many worthwhile projects for the Red Cross and Mayor's Christmas. Each year several hundred wheelbarrows are constructed and painted to be distributed to the needy children at Christmas. As a special feature for the Red Cross, the classes of Mr. Weilhamer built twenty occupational tables and Mr. Hoffmeister's classes made twenty-five foot stools for hospitals.

Frances Adomeit

Ruth A. Austin

Miss Frances Adomeit, a versatile member of the art department, inspires the creation of many clever posters for the yearbook. Her classes decorate the front hall at Christmas. Mr. Robert Ager teaches both physics and aeronautics. Miss Ruth Austin explains the intricacies of algebra and geometry. Miss Violet R. Balastra is the enthusiastic and capable adviser of the Girls' Athletic Association. She coaches kickball and physical fitness activities.

John J. Ager

Mr. E. H. Baldrige is an authority in American history and government. Miss Mary Banes heads our school library. Miss Mary R. Barnette teaches sociology and economics, as well as civics. Mr. Paul J. Bauer, a member of the science department, has classes in physics and general science, as well as a new course in fundamentals of machines.

SCIENCE PAVES WAY FOR TOMORROW'S WORLD

In the various laboratories of Hughes, varied activities are pursued. 102 finds young biologists and botanists experimenting with anything from a sun flower to multi-colored leaves and gold fish. Part of the study of botany is the practical experience gained in the care of the Hughes greenhouse. After careful preening and cultivating, Hughes holds Christmas, Easter and spring flower sales. Biologists watch the growth of life in an aquarium as a part of the course. Small aquaria on each table afford opportunity for close observation. Strange tales emerge from zoology lab about the dissecting of worms, frogs, and fish, all part of the day's work. Ascending the stairs to the third floor, one may sense peculiar odors coming from the chemistry laboratories. Physics affords an explanation of many everyday mechanical phenomena and answers the "why" of machinery and accepted laws of nature. Geology makes us know better the world on which we live. Science is gaining greater prominence as a requirement in the winning of the war. Marie Mayer and Clyde Fitzgerald are observing life in the aquarium amid gold fish and seaweed.

ART TEACHES PROFICIENCY IN HANDCRAFTS

Freddy Dittus, Lois Wittenbaum, and Marilyn Boster are engaged in craft work. Fruit of the labors of Arts and Crafts students are the belts, bowls, carved figures and other objects, both useful and beautiful. One of the first projects undertaken by these craftsmen is the designing of a pin or other ornament. From silver — even tin — grow rings, bracelets, pins, and sugar and cream sets. From leather many articles of beauty are fashioned, such as belts, book marks, book covers, purses, gloves, and billfolds — all tooled into beauty. Art classes model masks and ornaments from clay and paper maché. Posters are the main project for many students. Posters are now aiding the war by representing scrap drives, symphony subscriptions, war stamp sales, and "Quiet! the enemy is listening." When the Annual subscription drive started, the art classes furnished many expressive posters. Commercial art students spend much time planning eye-catching advertising layouts and studying the principles of design, color harmony and balance. Picturesque maps, and maps depicting spots of interest are part of the course. Still life designs help develop drawing skill.

"Keep 'em smiling" is the theme of the art class that gathered and assembled these scrapbooks for the armed forces. Clipping cartoons and comic strips from the newspapers and magazines the students sent several hundred books to the men. Everett Shipley, Virginia Plohr, and Camille Martini are checking the completed books.

Brought to the fore by the national emergency, navigation and aeronautics are now a part of the everyday life of Hughes. George Schwein and Jini Bowen are plotting a course by navigation methods. Marvin Turk watches Jini Bowen find the position of a plane on the map. Aerial navigation is the science of conducting aircraft in flight from one point to another.

AIR COURSES DELVE INTO FLIGHT THEORY
PREPARE FOR WORK IN THE POST-WAR WORLD

Organized with the innovation of the air raid warden system and first aid classes, the stretcher squad has performed many tasks when accidents have occurred. This year juniors and seniors Virginia Geisler, Mel Peerless, Bob Menge, Caroline Alvey, Art Griffes, Ralph Loesch, Mike Kennedy, and George Schwein have served as members of the squad.

In the background below is the first part of the Hughes Honor Roll, planned, made, and maintained by the students. Mechanical drawing pupils, under the direction of Mr. Wineland, are adding names all the time.

CARTOONS, COMICS KEEP SERVICEMEN HAPPY

We think woman is the most adaptable creature there is, and from all reports, Hughes gals have proved the well known fact. The Household Arts and Homemaking classes' war time activities have been adapted to our new war time world.

Proof of this can be found in the clicking sound of Red Cross knitting needles which incidentally form the nucleus for many warm, wooly afghans, sweaters, rifle mitts and scarves. The whir of sewing machines producing kit bags for our boys overseas can be heard daily.

And a person just can't resist looking into the Home Ec classrooms when the delicious aroma of freshly baked U.S.O. cookies reaches an inquisitive nose out in the corridor.

Precious toy animals pleased lots of little kiddies at the Mayor's Christmas Party this year; an enormous amount of work was done for Russian Relief, the War Chest, and Bundles for Britain.

Many of the girls discovered what fun it was to become volunteer Hospital Aides, G.A.D.'s, and Child Care Center workers. They learned that helping on the home front really helped.

One of the girls' favorite projects was making the costumes for the spring operetta, "Babes in Toyland". Home Ec girls interested in fashion design and dressmaking served as wardrobe mistresses and loved it! Making their own knitted sweaters and clothes was also a part of the war conservation program.

HUGHES HOMEMAKERS AID WAR CHEST, RUSSIAN RELIEF, BUNDLES FOR BRITAIN

Not only do the Home Ec gals make U.S.O. cookies and candy, but also delicious student-planned, student-cooked and student-consumed meals. The girls have really learned to plan wartime menus, to understand the peculiarities of rationing, and to be clever enough to understand the value of the right food alternates. At the top, Margie Grau, Ruth Kist, Audrey Gropengeiser, Madelyn Kleins, and Helen Fink, are working on kit bags for soldiers. The girls also have made three hundred pairs of quilted hospital slippers for veterans who have already returned from combat.

STUDY OF LANGUAGES HAS WAR EMPHASIS

Uniting the Americas is one of the goals that a knowledge of Spanish is anticipating. Above, Luis Perdomo greets Mike Kennedy across the continent. Through the study of language, we explain the customs, the everyday life and the temperament of the South American people. One of the ways to promote closer relationship is a mutual understanding of the history of the countries involved. Now that South America is a pal of our Allies in war, it is fitting that a detailed study of their civilization be made.

HISTORY HELPS US UNDERSTAND THE PRESENT

In these turbulent days it is important to read about the wars of old to be better equipped to cope with the present conflict. Social studies courses include history dating from the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans through medieval Europe, down to problems of today. Covering large territory is World History which stresses the high points of civilization. Global Geography and Problems of Democracy are two fascinating subjects added because of the war. As the boys in military training are fast learning, a knowledge of American history and government is not only useful but essential, especially to those who are in special college training groups. An understanding of world affairs is attained only through an understanding of the past. Hughes history classes and other groups are enlightened on world situations by weekly maps and discussion of current magazines. Below, in Miss Bejach's room, Marian Williams is pointing to Tokyo.

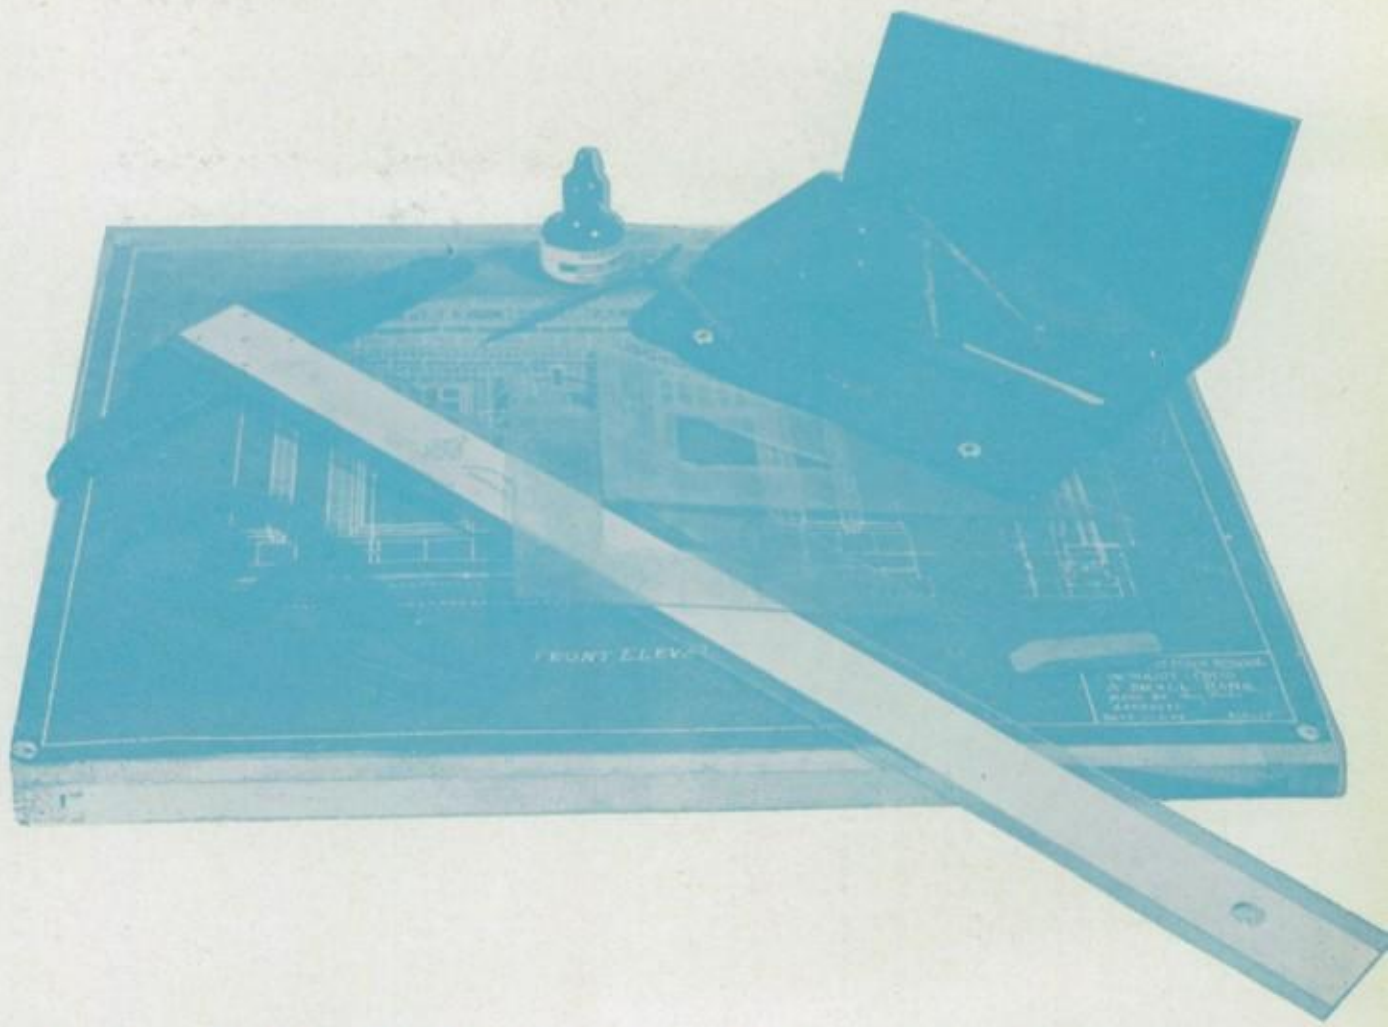

Directed by Miss Flora Portner, the three lunchrooms of Hughes daily serve more than twenty-five hundred people between 11:35 and 1:05.

In one day the following quantities of food are used: two hundred pounds of potatoes, seven bushels of spinach, one bushel of carrots, one bushel of string beans, three dozen bunches of celery, twelve number ten cans of whole kernel corn, eight hundred salads, one hundred five loaves of bread, twenty-five dozen rolls, seventy servings of pie, two hundred servings of layer cake, one hundred servings of Martha Washington cake, eighty-five servings of cottage pudding, six gallons of cream pudding, sixteen hundred eighty half-pints of milk, five hundred twenty bottle of lemonade. The lunchroom now prepares more food for twenty-four hundred pupils than it did when the school had three thousand students. Student cashiers figure the total of each lunch and collect the money. Dorothy Maidhof and Dorothy Balastra are cashiers in the girls' lunchroom.

LUNCHROOM HELPS KEEP STUDENTS HEALTHY

Precision and accuracy are important elements in typing. Typewriting and other commercial subjects have gained prominence because of the shortages of secretaries, bookkeepers, and stenographers. A new emphasis is placed on shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law, and the other commercial courses because the high school graduate who has had training in this branch is skilled to take over the jobs left vacant by men and women now in military service or defense plant work. Never before have so many golden opportunities appeared for the high school secretarial expert.

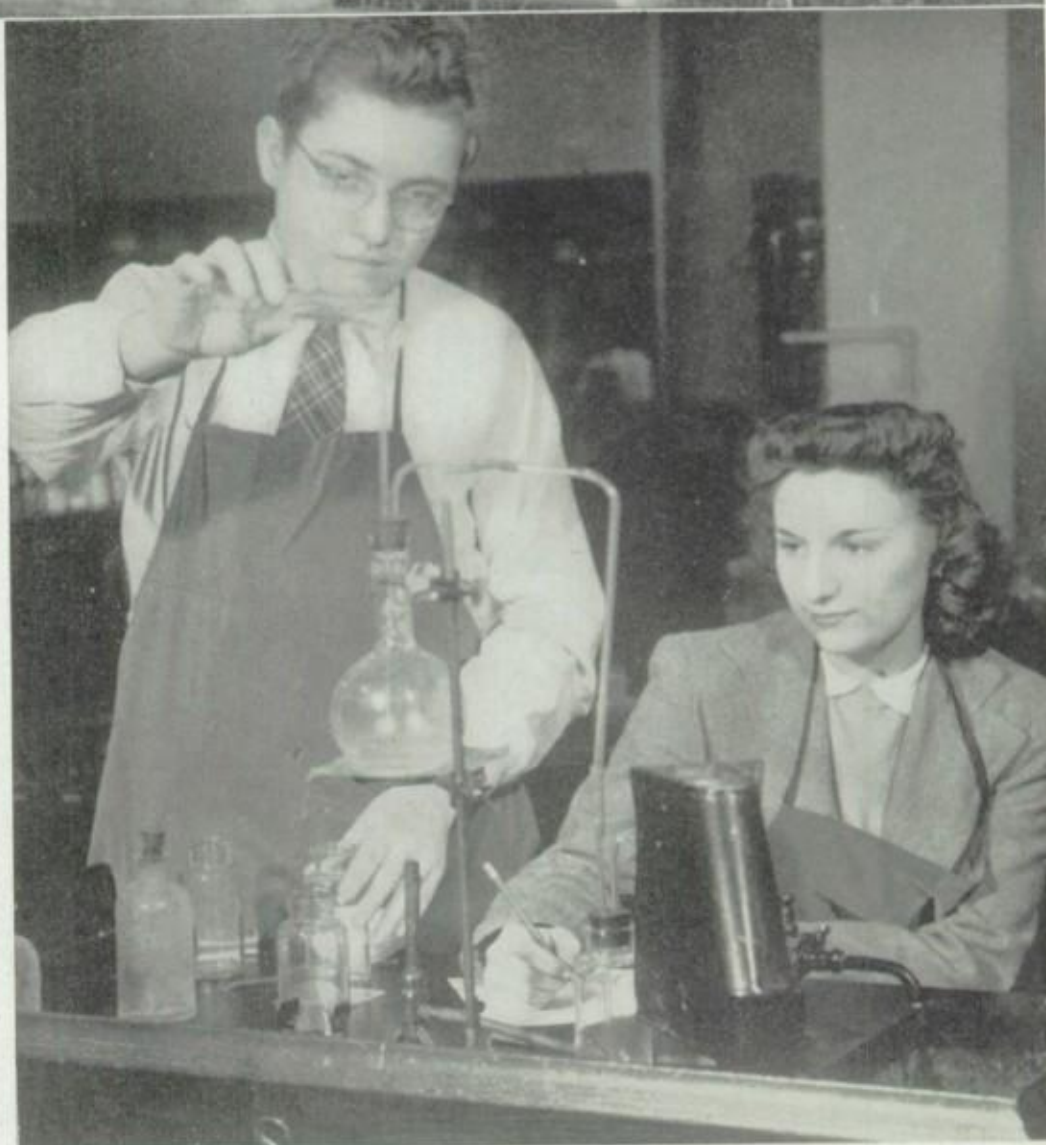

ACCURACY IS AN ESSENTIAL IN TYPING

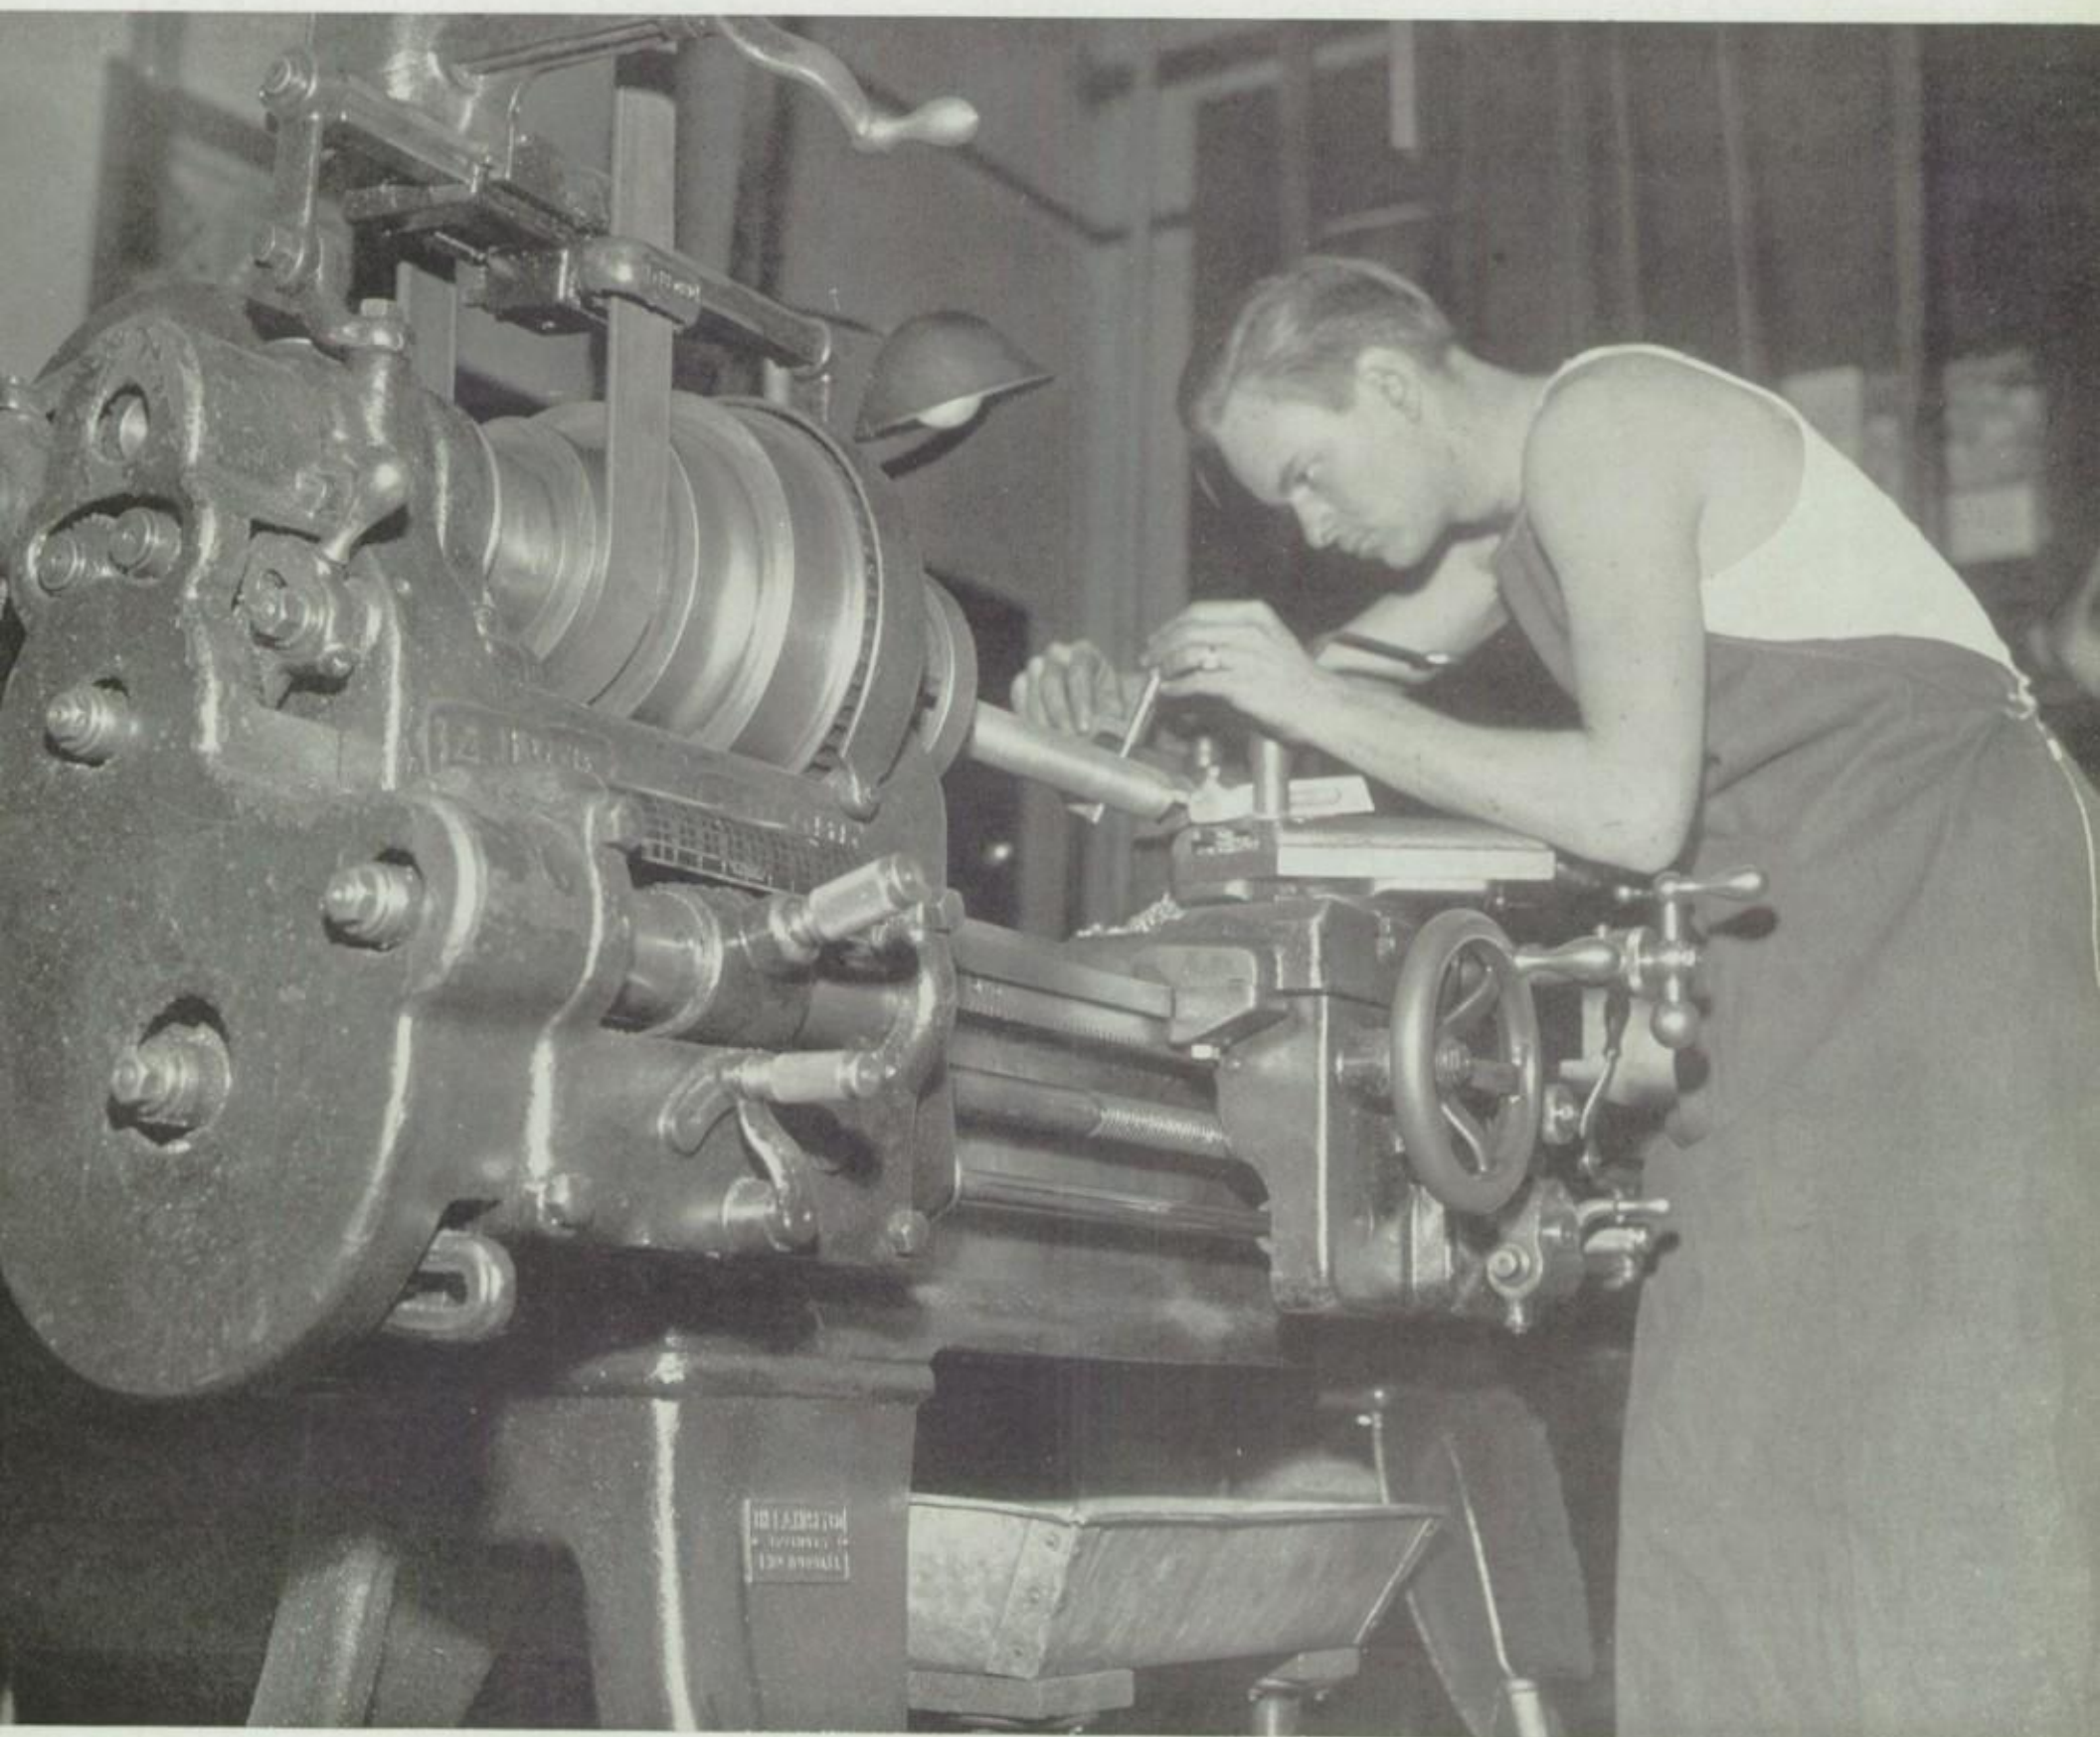

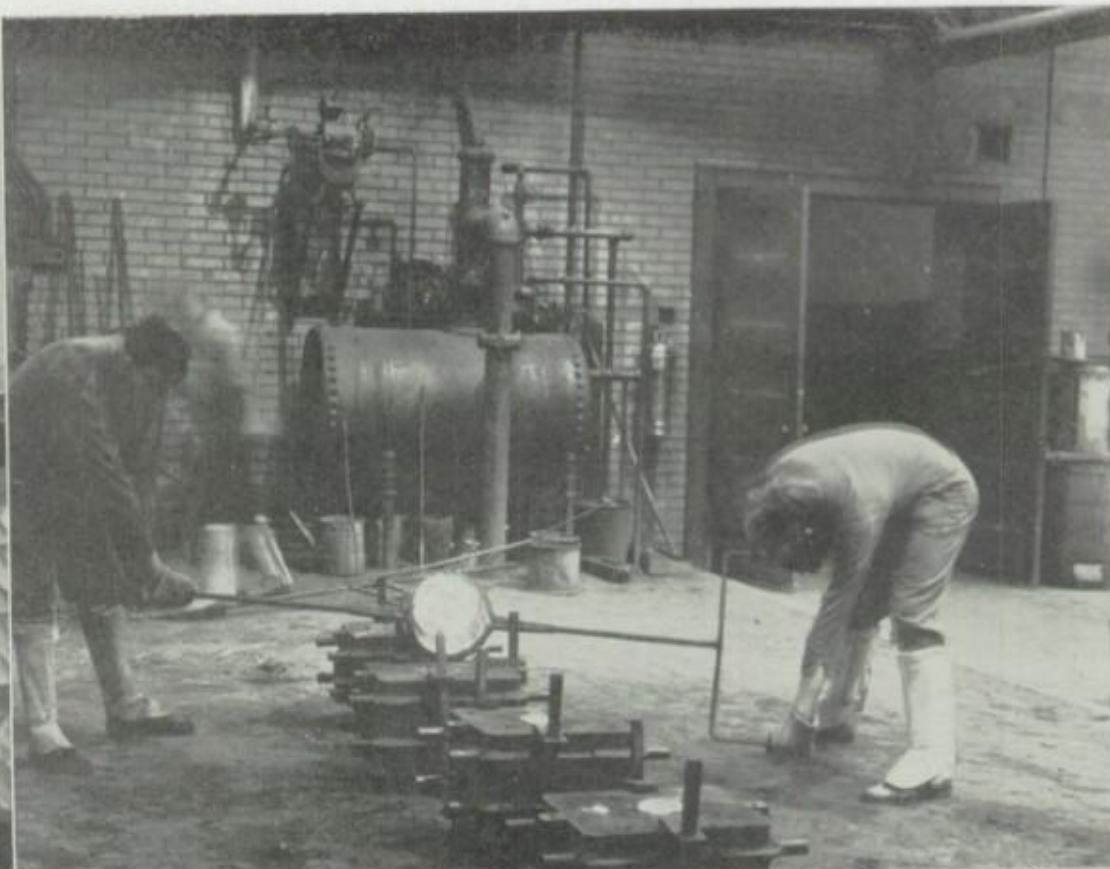

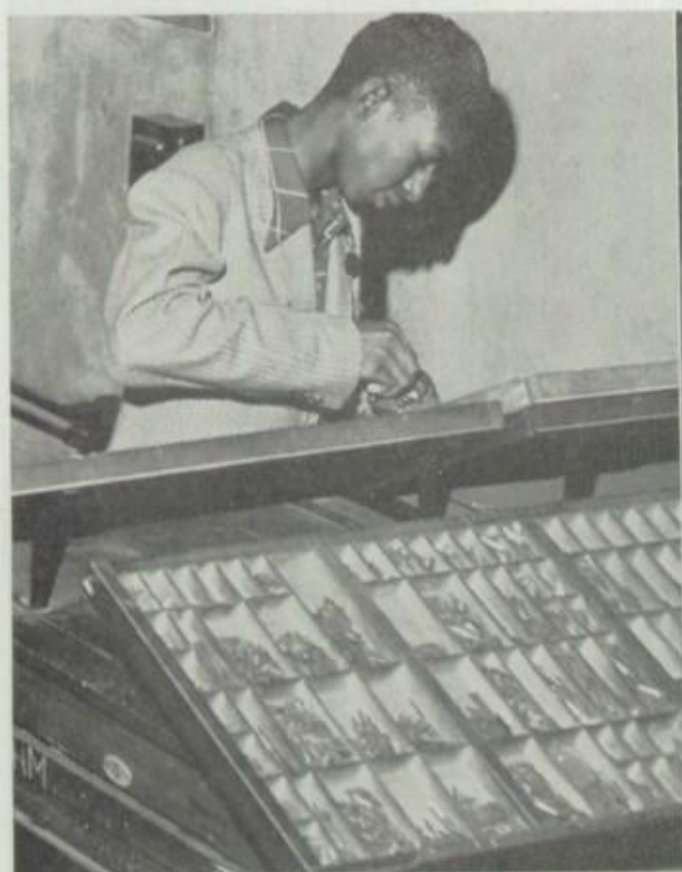

Conscious of the extreme importance of the physical sciences in a nation at war, the students of Hughes resort to the physics, chemistry, and general science classrooms in ever-increasing numbers. Several of the boys took both physics and chemistry in their senior year in order to prepare themselves for military service. Mr. Paul J. Bauer and Mr. Robert Ager teach physics. In chemistry, Mr. Homer Caskey and Mr. C. H. Schafer, place more emphasis on the practical side of chemistry than on the theoretical side. At right, Sam Feldman and Mary Noll are distilling in the lab. General Science is basically important because it provides the foundation upon which further study in any of the sciences is dependent. All the sciences serve to furnish the student with a background which will be of value to him in his future life. At top, Charles Rogers and Don Strasser are gluing a top for a Red Cross table.

At right Richard Bosse, Harry Beeker, and Julius Elberfeld are lifting out a ladle of molten lead. Below, Harry Beeker is working on a lathe in the machine shop. On the pages just following, we see them pouring the metal into the mould. Some make book ends, andirons, and plaques. There, at upper left, James Hurse is setting type in the print shop. The type is set in a stick. Lower left, Nelson Hayes, Donald Wrenn, Tom McArthur, and Don Mapes are feeding the presses. At upper right, boys are pouring metal into a mould. The metal has been heated until it flows freely. At center, a boy is "miking" a piece of stock on the lathe. At lower right, Howard Mueller is painting the wheel of a toy wheelbarrow that was made for the needy children at Christmas. In the larger picture Bill Smith, Harry Andres, and Don Walter are painting wheelbarrows.

WE SALUTE SENIORS WHO LEAVE HUGHES FOR WAR AND PEACETIME SERVICE

Although small in number, because of war-time emergencies, the class of 1944 will leave its mark at Hughes in the form of war stamp sales, scrap collection records, and a large honor roll of boys in the service. Special accelerated courses offered by colleges, and armed forces enabled many boys to complete their graduation work as well as finish a year at college before induction. Senior boys' home room, 312, was the smallest it has ever been, with one hundred fifty-eight in September. Although most studies and activities of the seniors were related to some phase of war work, the students still found time to play and have fun.

The following section is dedicated to the seniors of Hughes who are preparing for their place in a world at war.

To a good ^{Sunday} fellow and a still better fellow.
(To Huelsebusch)

The best of luck to a swell fellow.
Manfred Rihm

George, it's been swell knowing you. Loads of luck and all my wishes for your happiness—
Jean Hock

George—
The times
we had as classmates can not be forgotten.
Best of luck in
Air Corps
Vera

ONLY a few short years ago, we, the Class of 1944, approached the doors of Hughes as freshies. We were weeks getting acquainted, but then we recall sitting in the auditorium applauding with seniors, Sages' "Through the Night." Close to the play, old man Exam paid his semi-yearly visit to Hughes. Safely through, those of '44 were anxiously awaiting "Death Takes A Holiday." As an aftermath of this play, the operetta "Sweethearts" gave us tunes to whistle for a time. In June, we bade goodbye to our new friend, Mr. C. M. Merry.

PERKING up as sophomores to see what was going on around us, we found Mr. Charles Ottermann in the office second door down. Ronald Freeman had the romantic lead of Sages' "Old Doc."; it was only three days after this success that the same audience that had laughed at the play was assembled with sober faces to hear the never-to-be-forgotten address of the President asking Congress to declare war. With war, Hughes took on a different aspect. Shovels, sand buckets, air raid signs became new landmarks at our Clifton home.

TO us as juniors came the six-bell day, instead of the time honored eight periods. The newly organized Victory Corps, with Paul Riegert representing '44 as vice-chairman, began collecting everything from paper and metal, to silk stockings and lipstick containers.

UP in the alcove, third floor center, Ruth Djerf, Robert Rosenbaum, Marion Becker, Ronald Freeman, Bill Miller, and Danny Allison filled the editorial officers on the weekly "Gargoyle," while Adele Ginsburg took care of the business. Another big hit was scored by Sages in "The Copperhead". After hundreds of ballots had been counted, we found Bob Huelsebusch, Jean Hock, Manfred Rihm, and Vera Tozzer our leaders for 1944. Ruth Djerf and Ronald Freeman were to work in 103 as Annual editors, with Carol Heepke and Paul Carter as business managers.

WHEN autumn came, we were the top flight group of the school. We cheered and cheered when the Big Reds tamed the Withrow Tigers to capture the City Championship. Close on the heels of exams, our last at Hughes, we swooned to the crooning in "Babes in Toyland" when Margaret Broughton, Paul Carter, Ed Garner, Mary Catherine Duey, and Jeanine Bouchard took honors. "Polly of the Circus" brought excitement with Marion Becker, Ronald Freeman, Paul Carter and Bob Kuhn, the actors.

NOW our thoughts are turned to the big march down the carpeted aisle, with "Pomp and Circumstance" ringing in our ears. We resolve to come back again and again to the old Alma Mater where we made new friends, had good times, and tried to grow up.

As the interpreter of the many activities of Hughes, the "Gargoyle" is the medium of exchange of ideas, news and announcements for Hughes organizations and personalities. After three o'clock, the clubs of Hughes dominate school life. This year most clubs planned their programs to include some war activity, or to bring a speaker who explained some phase of war work or narrated personal experiences of interest. It is said that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.' This proverb has true significance at Hughes, as the score of clubs occupy students' leisure. The section following will review the activities of the clubs with a resumé of their 1944 activities.

WHAT'S COOKING? JOIN A CLUB AND SEE

"Keep 'em reading" is the keynote of the "Gargoyle" office where Editors Bob Bowman, Maudie Burton, Ervin Oberschmidt, Malcolm Bump, Cartoonist Sherwood Kohn, Editor Jane Askew, and Business Manager Adele Ginsburg preside.

VICTORY CORPS DIRECTS WAR ACTIVITIES, SPONSORS DRIVES FOR PAPER, METAL, BLOOD

Eighty-six hundred forty pounds was the total of the first paper drive this year. The pre-Christmas drive netted six tons.

HUGHES Victory Corps is headed by an Executive Council, made up of twelve members, and Mr. Arthur J. Havlovic, faculty adviser. This year every student is a member, but only the representatives attend the meetings. Each room has a delegate and an alternate, who take all suggestions to the meetings and who give reports to the home rooms. Paul Riegert acted as chairman and Bill Sonderman, vice-chairman. The Executive Council was composed of two members of each grade and four club presidents. They were Virginia Sippel, representing the Honor League; Katherine Voelger, Girl Reserves; Jack Smoot, Hi-Y; and Bill Gandenberger, who graduated in February, Hughes Club. Since the beginning of the year the council urged the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Garments were collected as part of a campaign to clothe refugees. Early in February the Victory Corps answered the Armed Forces' urgent call for wooden and metal coathangers. This month also marked the drive for blood donors. Pupils eighteen or over were asked to give a pint of blood. Red Cross pamphlets were given to all students to take home, and posters in each room helped advertise the need for more blood donors. The meetings of the Victory Corps are held during school time. At one of the meetings a plan was discussed to continue the Victory Corps after the war in the form of a Hughes student council.

Composed of two members from each grade and four club presidents, the executive council included: Standing: Bill Sonderman, Paul Riegert, Mary Pease, Dorothy Schneider, Catherine Cassini, Marie Mayer, Katherine Voelger, Dick Zimmer, Bill Ganderberger. Seated: Sandy Goodwell, Dennis Kash, Virginia Sippel, Don Rudler.

Led by Mr. C. H. Schafer and Col. Stroehlein were the Air Raid Wardens.

HI-Y

Made up of a restricted number of seniors and juniors selected from the Hughes Club, the Hi-Y organization serves as a link between Hughes and the Y.M.C.A. Holding semi-monthly meetings, the club took an ever increasing interest in extra-curricular activities. Taking the leading role in sponsoring about-the-school recreation, the entertainment committee presented several informal tea dances and a gala swimming party. Mr. Alan Kindschy, succeeding Lieutenant Arch. D. Lang, who left Hughes at the end of last year for service in the Navy, was the Hi-Y sponsor.

HUGHES CLUB

As in previous years, the Hughes Club had as its members the outstanding boys of the junior and senior class. This year the president was Bill Gandenberger, but the vice-president, Bob Brafford took the chair upon Bill's enlistment in the Marines in February.

As Hughes aided in the various war drives, the Hughes Club was the first organization to fill kits for Russian War Relief. To climax the year, the group planned to revive their annual hiking trip. Near the end of April a week-end hike and camping trip to Camp Meacham was planned.

EVERY girl in the Senior class is a member of the Honor League under the guidance of Miss M. J. Bentley. Many lasting friendships were made at the Little Sisters' party in October. The freshmen were again entertained by the league at their regular Christmas Party. At this time the girls enjoyed two movies, one of which was called "Marching With Old Glory" telling of the work of the Red Cross in all parts of the world. Many other interesting programs, consisting of quiz programs, music, and speakers were held throughout the year at the meetings. On the spring calendar of the Honor League was a tea that featured the organization and functions of the U. S. O.

Some had two long braids. Others had short stubby ones that hardly showed, but almost everyone followed the order of the day — pig-tails. This 112 Pigtail Day was the senior girl's answer to 312's Bow Tie Day. Always a club that holds up the finest standards for girlhood, the Girl Reserves this year have stressed the idea of service. One of the large pieces of work they undertook, was giving aid in caring for young charges at the Child Care Centers. Panel discussions were an interesting feature of their meetings. Topics debated included problems of youth, juvenile delinquency, family relations, dating and other problems that adolescents face. Spring was a busy season for the Girl Reserves. During March, they sold souvenir plates of Hughes. April 26 was the date of their Talent Show at the Central Y.W. C.A. This was put on in conjunction with the Hi-Y boys. The Girl Reserves-Hi-Y picnic was the highlight of the May Calendar.

CLASSICS LIVE ON THROUGH APPRECIATION

United by bonds of common understanding of things classic, the students of Caesar, Cicero, and Vergil gathered every month at their Latin Club meetings. With Miss M. Julia Bentley as its director, the club gave many varied programs covering such subjects as customs in Roman elections, the practices on the Roman Saturnalia, and the beginnings of St. Valentine's day. Another feature was a quiz program with sets of questions on Latin topics. Although the war has introduced many new subjects into the student's curriculum, the classics still remain and the student of Latin knows the satisfaction of discovering the beauty there.

Expanding the membership to include first year students, Le Cercle Francais had an interesting year. Programs featured charades, verb acting games, spelling bees and word formation games, quizzes, and cards. Miss Louise E. Bentley entertained the group with lectures on her travels in France and displayed many interesting curios and souvenirs. The French Club, an old organization at Hughes, keeps the hope of a Free France strong in the hearts of all who love and appreciate France, its customs, language, and literature.

Radio programs, school assemblies, posters, and exhibits in art museums, libraries, and schools featured in the observance of "Latin Week". This was held from March 12 through March 18, under the auspices of the Ohio Classical Conference. Dr. William T. Semple of the Department of Classics at the University of Cincinnati and Miss M. Julia Bentley of our own Latin Department were on the Service Committee which planned the details of all the affairs connected with this observance. At Hughes itself, the week was celebrated with a double auditorium. Miss Bentley, Miss Fink, and Miss Busch directed the production.

Now more than ever, Spanish is important to young citizens. The war has brought about increased trade with South America. When victory comes, many students expect to visit our southern neighbors by using the Pan-American Highway. The study of Spanish is a preparation for the world of tomorrow. We learn not only the language of the people, but also their customs and traditions. One afternoon each month La Tertulia meets under the sponsorship of Mrs. LeRoy. The meetings are conducted as much as possible in Spanish. Activities for the year, which were centered about South American topics, included an interesting talk by Professor Willis K. Jones of Miami University on South American hospitality and a showing of the Disney film, "South of the Border". The highlight of the meetings was a talk by an exchange student at U.C. from Colombia in South America. He spoke about the teen-age groups of the Americas. At each meeting, jokes, riddles, stories, songs and games in Spanish are the features. Every year the club sponsors a dinner party at the Spanish Inn, where, in an atmosphere of Old Spain, Spanish food is served and Spanish customs are observed.

PROFITS from the corsage sale at the operetta, netting $85, went to the Red Cross. A contribution of $25 was also made to the Community Chest. The activities this year have followed a natural bend toward war work. Miss McSurely, the able sponsor who has kept in touch with many of the Hughes boys, supervised the record drive, proceeds of which were also given to service organizations. FROM work in basic algebra to the intricate twists of trigonometry, the student learns how to solve problems both by analysis and synthesis. He is securing the power to think logically. Those who are interested in mathematics usually join the Math Club; there, under the capable direction of Mr. Siehl, they hear well informed speakers lecture on timely topics. CHESS, although played on a checker board, involves more men and maneuvers than checkers and requires more concentration. The Chess Club met every Wednesday in 116 and worked this year toward a tournament with the Xavier team as a climax to an interesting year. Mr. Doherty is the sponsor.

Started as a booster at athletic contests, the three year old Pep Club is fast becoming a Hughes tradition. Through efforts of this lively club, attendance and spirit have increased at football and basketball games. Pennants, stickers, and shakers were sold in cooperation with Hughes Club. President Vera Tozzer and a group of energetic girls formed the nucleus of the ticket sellers for the annual football double header. Plans were made to help the band with its transportation problems this year.

PARLATORS DEBATE NATIONAL QUESTIONS

Following in the footsteps of last year's city champions, Hughes Parlators have had another successful year debating on a post war plan "Resolved: That the United States should join in reconstituting the League of Nations." The trophy was awarded following the First Annual Debate Tournament held at Saint Xavier last year. After opening their schedule by participating in a debate meeting at Hamilton High, they have engaged opposition from several schools including Walnut Hills, Coviington Holmes, Saint Xavier, and Hamilton.

CIRCUS COMES TO HUGHES VIA SAGE PLAY

When the curtains parted and footlights went up for the first dramatic production, with the regular senior and junior Sages were freshmen and sophomores. The initiating of underclassmen with make-up and wig was the biggest innovation of the Sage year. A Christmas play, "The Spirit of the Day," and, in honor of Washington, "The Four Freedoms of Hughes" gave an opportunity to Thespians and aspirant Thespians. A highlight of the year was the novel initiation of seven Thespians at a Sage dinner. Each one had to perform an act before he was accepted into the dramatic society. This year the Sages were headed by Miss Helen Louise Stapleford as director.

INTO the "Gargoyle's" alcove office on the third floor freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors bring manuscripts, columns, interviews, and news of clubs, students, and teachers for the weekly publication. Under the direction of Miss Hazel L. Koppenhoefer and student advisers, Ruth Djerf and Ronald Freeman, the newspaper is edited by a staff of juniors.

The "Gargoyle's" seventeenth anniversary contains two innovations, the service men's subscriptions and the home room circulation system in which boys sell in girls' rooms and girls in boys' homerooms. Roto colored sections and monthly six-page editions varied the size of the publications this year. Following exams, the Post-Exam Special, a humorous supplement was sold for the regular price of five cents. April Fools' day was the day for a humorous issue of jokes, riddles, and parodies. Near the end of the year, an entire issue was devoted to the seniors.

A group of top-notch salesmen was employed by the fourth estate to sell their product. The "Gargoyle" business staff, under Adele Ginsburg's capable direction, increased the sales from a previous high of 1,200 per week to a normal weekly sale of 1,700 and an occasional 2,000 circulation. Advertisements were so well solicited by Adele's business staff that an extra page was published every six issues.

WITH WORD AND PICTURE, ANNUAL STAFF

MR. CLYDE A. HALL

Directing Business Managers in their work and keeping Annual accounts, Mr. Hall, financial adviser of the year-book, helped to guide the staff successfully through a year of war shortages and higher costs.

After much debating, the 1944 editors decided to portray Hughes in a war year. To execute the plan of the book, each staff member had his own particular responsibility. In Room 103, the Annual Office, Editress Ruth Djerf might be directing her co-workers in trimming or pasting photographs. To her fell the duty of the underclassman, faculty and senior sections. Keeping the calendar up to date was her favorite pastime.

Working closely with the others, was our layout adviser, Art Editor Pat Jenkins. Pat made most of the layouts in the book, as well as the cover design.

In the midst of the scene, Business Manager Paul Carter might burst in shouting, "It's super! We sold 2050 annuals! 88% of the school!" To Paul and Carol Heepke, Business Managers, goes the credit for the subscription sales. When not counting money or conferring with Mr. Hall, they would be discussing advertisements.

Editor Ronald Freeman might walk in dragging his camera behind him. This year the editor doubled as cameraman. Ron planned the athletic section and took most of the pictures. He supervised copy for activities, view section, class work and athletics.

Two capable and energetic staff members were Jean Hock and Sallie Lou Parker. Working daily with the editors, they helped in every way from identification of clubs to writing copy, trimming, and pasting. Vera Tozzer looked after the girls' athletic section. Lois Masters typed copy.

MISS HELEN TANGEMAN

As we worked through deadlines, keeping spirits high, commenting, aiding and constantly checking was Miss Tangeman, who served as Annual Adviser. "Hughes in Our Time" owes much to her untiring efforts.

DEPICTS LIFE AT "HUGHES IN OUR TIME"

Photographer Bernard Simpson is often in the limelight as he clicks his camera.

Layouts for "Hughes in Our Time" were made by Art Editor Pat Jenkins.

In the field of sports writing in the Annual Office, Tom Bryan held the lead. As Sports Editor, he not only helped in arranging the layouts, but wrote a great deal of the copy. Basketball, baseball, track, tennis and gym copy were his chief interests. Albert Goering wrote copy and kept records for football this year.

Jim Bryan, a capable editor's assistant, worked many long hours after school on all parts of the book. Adele Roehr designed the lining map and the title page. Eva Redfield did the section pages, and August Hermes made the drawings for the athletic section. George Stern executed Al Goering's chart of the Withrow game.

Bob Neumann, Bob Westrich, and Ernest Bernhard form the trumpet trio which entertains at auditoriums, on the football field, and at dances.

Mr. A. Raymond Kratz is the director of both orchestra and band. He is responsible for the many innovations offered by the band, and for the instrumental work in "Babes in Toyland."

FUTURE PRIMA DONNAS BLOSSOM IN 306 CONSERVATORY

If a student wants to join the A Cappella Choir, one of the best ways to prepare for it is membership in the Glee Club. Both Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs offer two periods a week of choral training plus the general good time for all.

The A Cappella Choir is not merely a group of singers that rehearses every day during the third period. It is, rather, a group unlike any other in the school whose daily class is as completely different from the average as it is possible to be. There is a spirit present which destroys barriers and puts all on the same footing. A part of this is due to the type of study involved. It is impossible to achieve the choral effects of great Russian, English, or Moravian composers without experiencing that indescribable something that leaves a group in total silence after the last note has been sung.

But choir has its lighter moments. There are almost as many legends about the happenings within the doors of 306 as there are about the immortal 312. No iron rule is present at choir rehearsals. One of the severest punishments is the assignment to sing a solo in front of the whole chorus. Talkers are labeled as members of the "Chin and Chatter Club", and often laughed into silence.

Suck 'n' stuff - Sallie Lou Parker

An interesting feature of the choir is The Madrigal Singers, a selected group of eighteen, which sings vocal chamber music unaccompanied. First sopranos of this year include Mary Duey and Margaret Broughton; Second Sopranos, Thelma Finke and Beatrice Weiss; First Altos, Kay Pyles, Jeannine Bouchard, and Sallie Lou Parker; Second Altos, Esther Knapp and Fayne Tempchin; First Tenors, Paul Carter and Eugene Michels; Second Tenors, Carl Weiss and Ed Garner; First Basses, Wendell Ford and William Johnson; Second Basses, Art Griffes and Stan Yuelling.

This year, the A Cappella Choir has reached new heights, from "Bonds-A-Poppin'" to a fine performance of "Babes in Toyland."

Hughes is indeed fortunate to have as the director of this and the other school choral groups, Mr. John W. Molnar.

Mr. John W. Molnar, Director

In addition, the school was entertained by a spring concert, in the form of a double auditorium, on April 26. In this recital, both glee clubs and choir took part, joining together for the finale of the year.

THE production of Victor Herbert's immortal "Babes in Toyland" at Hughes on March 2, 3, and 7, was one that the student body will long remember. Originally scheduled for only two nights, the operetta played to three full houses.

Below: Every story has a happy ending; Stan Yuellig and Mary Duey illustrate that "Babes in Toyland" was no exception.

MONTHS of hard work gave Hughes the outstanding production of the year as "Babes in Toyland" disclosed many latent talents. Paramount credit goes to the choral director, Mr. Molnar, who gave his full time and energy to the success of the operetta, and was rewarded for his efforts by appreciation from the audience and a war bond from the cast. The story revolved around the adventures of a young man named Alan and his sister Jane. Their escapades, with Contrary Mary, their Uncle Barnaby, the Master Toymaker, the two pirates Gonzorgo and Roderigo, the Widow Piper and her fourteen children and Inspector Marmaduke, provided many hilarious moments.

DEEPLY imprinted upon the memories of all those who heard them are the melodies from "Babes in Toyland", expertly played by the senior orchestra: "Barney O'Flynn", "I Can't Do That Sum", "Flor-etta", "The Poet's Song", "The March of the Toys", "Beatrice Barefacts", and "Before and After". Below left, Jeannine Bouchard whispers in Mary Duey's ear. Below right, Margaret Broughton and Stan Yuellig turn gypsy.

THE CALENDAR DEPICTS HUGHES IN 1944

Whether it be a tummyache or a toothache, Mrs. Bertha Kahn, our nurse, knows all the remedies.

To issue books to the teachers and keep all these accounts in order is the job of Jack Smoot and Jerry Todd.

Always on hand with a helpful suggestion and a friendly countenance is our friend, Dick Hartigan, Hughes custodian.

Bertha S. Kahn, R.N.

Bob Sadler, Vaughn Oswald, and Don Buck preside at the book shop. Don left for college in February — Larry Schnee, of '44, graduated through Navy credits November 22, 1943. Norman Keller, Phil Loshin, and Albert Nagel all of '44 were graduated from Hughes in November, 1943 - January, 1944, through armed forces training and accelerated college courses — Springtime is jalopy time at Hughes. Bet they don't all get a ride! — "And the band played on" at practice for the operetta — Freshies study progress of the war.

Once again the doors of Hughes swing wide, welcoming friends, old and new, as they undertake the work of the new year. Old Sol lures students to Hughes front steps on bright September days. Boys and girls mingle to talk over the day's happenings. Above, photographic complexities are probed by the '44 Annual staff. Pat, Ruth, and Ronald worry over the mechanism of the graphic camera. Below (at left), "Who's helping whom?" Pat and Eddy work hard at catching up on a tough assignment during the all-too-brief fourth bell. Below (at right), Senior scout Maidof sights the "61" to the relief of Jo, Esther, Doris, and Ethel. Ethel's car is parked for the duration as she's saving her ration points.

Under the supervision of nurses and doctors from the Cincinnati Public School's Health Department, 920 Hughes students of the eleventh and twelfth grades and all other pupils who were seventeen years of age were given a complete physical examination in the fall of the year as part of the schools' physical fitness program. For ten days in October, the boys' and girls' gyms, Room 12, and the Goodlow dining room were the setting for eight doctors, twenty nurses, and nineteen nurse's aides who gave their services. The exam included a check upon eyes, ears, nose, throat, heart, blood pressure, feet, weight, height, internal condition, respiration, posture, and general mental condition. One hundred fifty-six pupils out of the total number were found to be in need of no alteration. In connection with the examination, pupils were also given the opportunity to have an x-ray and blood test at the Health Center of the city.

Electing the Hughes representative for mayor is the topic under discussion, below. The students debate the question on the front lawn.

Bill Miller, Jack Lischer, Ronald Freeman, Elliott Wolff, and Don Smith vie for the title of mayor.

Spirits zoomed at the Hughes-Withrow championship game, when the "Big-Reds" came home with a victory; the first in four years. Jean Carter, Charlotte Schmitt, and Don Solsman do their part in cheering the team on. A highlight of that game was the presentation of an ambulance by Withrow students to the American Red Cross Ambulance Corps.

If you bought an extra war stamp, you saw "Bonds-a-Poppin'", the show put on by the A Cappella choir, Nov. 17, at 3:10 p.m. Approximately $300 was spent by students in addition to the usual weekly amount and, for the first time, the total of stamps bought reached the $1,000 mark.

Opening with an original arrangement of "Bugle Call Rag" by Bob Swartwout, the show got off to a brilliant start. M.C.ing the affair was Jack Smoot. The music was provided by Bob Swartwout's band. The vocalists were Bea Weiss, Esther Knapp, Charlotte Schmitt, and Peggy Gallagher. Don Buck, Ed Garner, Wendell Ford, and Don Biehl added the comedy element with their "Death of Julius Caesar." The highlight act of the show was Bob Menge's impersonation of Frank Sinatra, complete with "zoot suit" and swoons.

Don Buck and Paul Carter wrote the entire script for the play. Few people knew that the show was almost impromptu, yet it was a great success.

Jean Hock and Ruth Benzinger smile sweetly at the camera. — Miss Johnson's civic class make posters for "Education for Victory" week. — Parents' night offers problems and pleasures to both students and faculty. — George Cundy entertains the fans at the half — Davena Singer and Allen Rohlfert "talk it over". — "Smile pretty," says Carol Heepke as the camera clicks. — The game is over. —

Every year at Hughes, the Art Department, headed usually by Miss Frances Adomeit decorates the front hall with gay holiday trimmings. For a week before Christmas, these military snowmen greeted Huzites and visitors. Around the large columns, were more patriotic heads be-decked with red, white and blue stars and sprays of evergreen.

The day before Christmas was climaxed when Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls came to life and danced about the stage with Plum Puddings and French dolls in the dramatics department, "Spirit of the Day."

Since the first Junior Town Meeting of the Air, Hughes has held debates on national questions in the weekly meeting of Parlators, the debating club participation on the radio forum, gave an opportunity for real practice to the young debaters.

At right, jubilant crowds take leave of the Withrow-Hughes Basketball game. Proud Seniors display their new class rings in the inset. Below, President Robert Huelsebusch presides at the meeting of the 1944 Class Ring Committee. Checking sizes, names, and collecting money for the rings, were Albert Goering, Vera Tozzer, Robert Brafford, Fred Stroehlein, and Jean Hock. At bottom, 312 bids goodbye to six brothers at the big party in February. Don Buck, William Holtkamp, Bill Gandenberger, standing; Fred Sess, Albert Siegrist, and Wendell Ford, kneeling, were the reason for the farewell party. At the right are part of the gay decorations and some of the entertainment at the 312 party. At top of previous page, are the traditional decorations for Christmas at Hughes.

THE UNDERCLASSMEN CARRY ON HUGHES TRADITIONS AND A CURRICULUM FOR WAR

Entering Hughes with much foreboding and a glance behind, the freshmen soon learn to take their place in the new world. Sophomores, "sometimes wise, sometimes foolish," feel at home in the big building. They are lords in their own way over the bewildered freshies. Although the 10th graders are aristocrats to the freshmen, the juniors are the true rulers of the underclassmen. Juniors look ahead to prepare themselves for the responsibility of the school in their last year.

Since the three underclasses are a majority in every school, we dedicate this section to them. The Jordon Library is one of the places where members of every grade congregate to pursue knowledge and observe the footprints of the great.

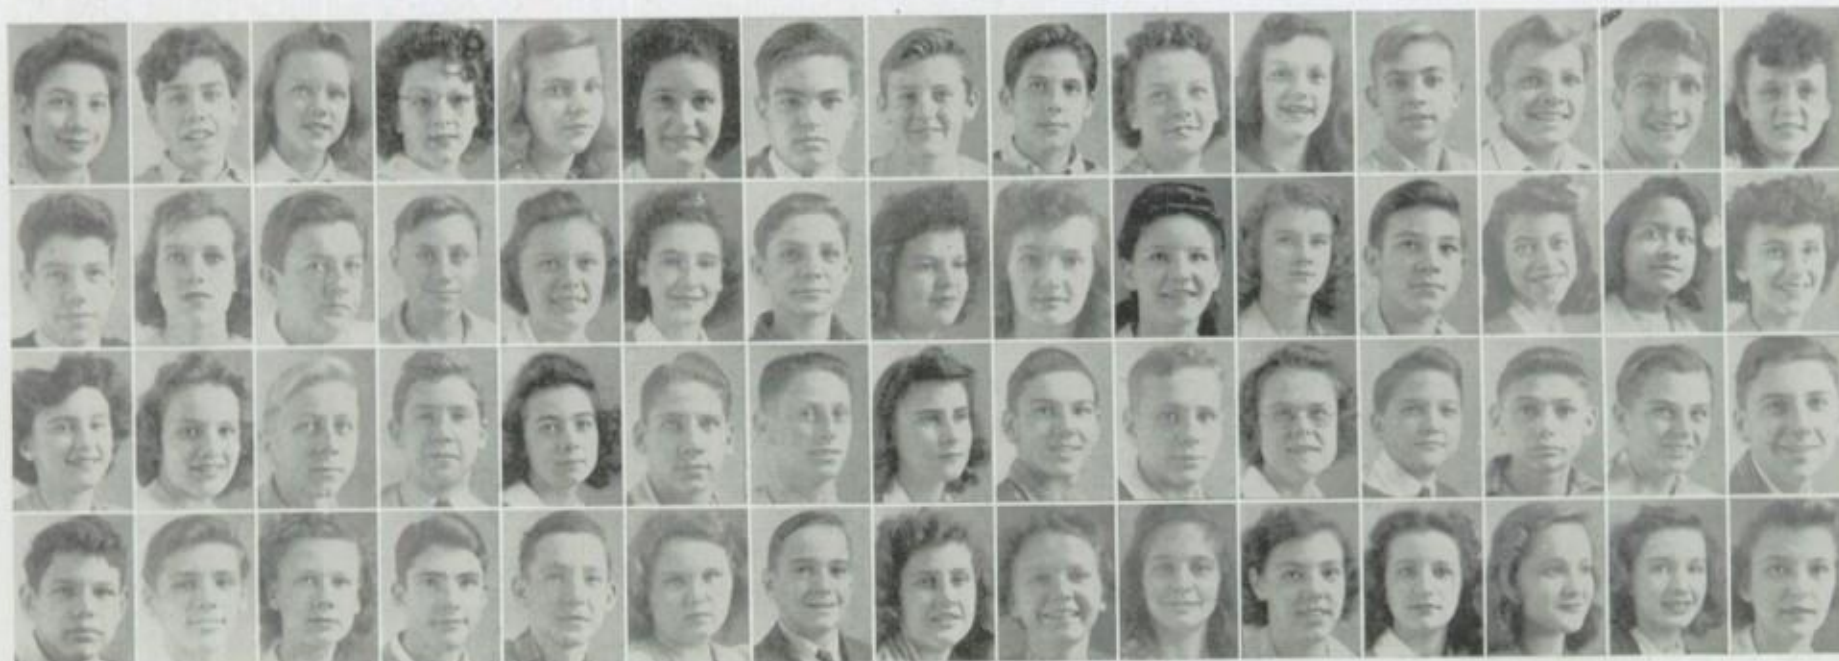

Engrossed in the treasures of the Jordan Library are Jessie Taylor, Minerva Barrowcliff, Ken Finneran, Myrtle Gunther, and Irene Pirrman. We all use the Clara B. Jordan Library.

Senior greets Freshmen at the Honor League "Little Sisters Party." At the head of the line Rosalind Kohn meets Sylvia Goldberg. Others in the group are Jane Dziech, Jean Gro-nauer, Janet Creigh-ton, Dorothy Funke, Gloria Tavel, Ruth Djerf, Lois Masters, and Marian Feldman.

John Vandegriff, John Curren, Merrill Games, and George Graff pack up to start the day.

At morning, during the noon hour, and after school, the steps of Hughes play a part in the life of the school. A favorite gathering place, they serve as a spot to meet and discuss last week's game, today's report card, and tomorrow's dance. From these steps, too, Huzites can glimpse its neighbor, the University of Cincinnati, where the changed mode of campus life is evident.

SOPHOMORES MARCH TOWARD VICTORY PEACE AS WELL AS WINNING THE WAR NOW

Speaking of sophomores, "where are the gay young sophomores?" Who are "the gay young sophomores?" They are some 700 of the student body of Hughes High School. They are no longer "verdant freshmen" rushing here and there, finding what it means to be in high school for the first time, struggling through algebra, learning the fundamentals of Latin, reading volumes of historical events and retaining little, but they are sophomores. They have plunged into geometry, have begun to consider themselves Roman citizens as they translate "Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres —" and, as a diversion from this drudgery, have spent periods in the laboratory dissecting worms, frogs and other living creatures. Yes, they are gay and not yet sure of their plans for the future. One day they have decided to be nurses or doctors, but that is when the world at war impresses itself more strongly on their minds; the next day their thoughts are far from a serious world as they dash off to a basketball game, or, school over for the week, attend the Saturday matinee at the neighborhood movie. It is true, that another year will find them juniors, speeding on to the senior class and "the wide, wide world", but now they are "the gay young sophomores" of Hughes High School, Class of '46.

Students in the class of '45 entered Hughes the year that war was declared. Early in October, the seniors gave the Big Sister Party and all the ninth grade girls felt that at last they had someone to answer their questions. During the first semester Sam Feldman was chosen the Freshman Quiz Kid. After the memorable December 7, the class of '45 learned what it meant to be an American.

The second year found the sophomores used to the life at Hughes. Ruth Becker, Carol Ruthemeyer, Virginia Seyfried, and Ruth Kieswetter became drum majorettes and marched to the tune of "Jingle, Jangle, Jingle." Stan Yuellig made his first appearance with the football team and he made the last score for Hughes at the Withrow game. Girls started to knit war articles and the boys joined the Mystic Knights' Circle. William Sonderman and Dorothy Balastra were elected to the Victory Corps Council.

Now juniors are preparing themselves for the position as head of the school. Maudie Burton, Jane Askew, Ervin Oberschmidt, Malcolm Bump, and Robert Bowman edit the "Gargoyle." Sherwood Kohn is drawing the original character called Lancelot Smada. Jim Andrews, Bill Sonderman, and Don Biehl were selected to be cheer leaders. All junior members of the A Cappella Choir took part in the operetta, "Babes In Toyland."

Don Shear, Malcolm Bump, Bill Hauer, and Marvin Barsman represented the juniors on the Hughes Town Meeting of the Air. The last thing left for the class of '45 as juniors, will be to select their officers for their all-important senior year. It has been an eventful three years for the juniors and their eyes turn to their final year ahead when they will be rulers of Old Hughes.

A large crowd, a friendly atmosphere, a lively band and a good, loud cheer are the only requisites for a winning team. With the backing of Hughes students in every athletic event, the teams have taken many crowns. Sportsmanship, team work, cooperation, and friendly rivalry are behind winning teams at Hughes. Fun and excitement prevail at all events of athletic competition. Whether it be a sunny-day on a football field, or a rainy day at a basketball game, our cheerleaders are always present to key the spirit of Hughes rooters and help bring victory to our teams.

UNDEFEATED RUNNERS CLAIM ALL HARRIER CHAMPIONSHIPS

Starting the 1943 season with two returning lettermen, Coach Paul Richert again built his Cross Country outfit into the City and District champions following an undefeated and untied season.

Paced by Bill Holtkamp, the Big Reds were triumphant in their first two meets of the year. These meets were the 1 1/2 mile run at Western Hills and a 2 mile event at Walnut Hills.

Then came the Southwestern Ohio District Meet. Among the best runners in southwestern Ohio, the Hughes dynasty again ruled supreme. The Avon Field 1 3/4 mile was the scene of action, when for the third time in a row, the Hughes runners were the proud possessors of the trophy and the "kings" of this part of Ohio.

Distance Dwindles Under Feet Of Champ Huzites

The fourth and final meet of the year was the all important City Meet. This year the meet was held at Withrow with four schools entered to traverse the 2 mile course.

For the 6th consecutive year, and the 11th time since 1930, the boys ended their season with the Public High School League Championship. After the gruelling 2 miles were completed, the official results showed Hughes victor by a decisive margin.

Having thus satisfactorily retained the District and City crowns, Coach Richert announced that letters would be awarded to W. Gandenberger, Holtkamp, Hermes, Heinemann, Michaels, R. Gandenberger, and Rhollans. Norb Denhart was awarded his letter for managing the team.

How They Broke The Tape

Football! Cold fall days, brilliant autumn foliage, the smell of burning leaves, and above it all, the hoarse shouts of our valiant cheerleaders! The football season is one of high spirits, high hope, and for the Hughes team this year, one of high scores.

Leading all, come our majorettes and major, Ruth Kiesewetter, Virginia Seyfried, and George Cundy.

With the pyramid formation and other stunts that never fail to draw attention, the Hughes cheerleaders, Jerry Friedlander, Bill Sonderman, Bob Sadler, Don Biehl, Jimmy Andrews, Jack Smoot, and Fred Stroehlein, have appeared at every game. Always working their hardest to bring the crowd to a fever pitch of support, their efforts have helped make our Big Reds, Champions in the Public High School League.

STAN YUELLIG, F. B.

After a lapse of four years, "Big Reds" returned to Hughes the P. H. S. L. championship. The team compiled a brilliant record of eight wins and two losses, losing only a heart-breaking opener to Hamilton and an out-fumbled Purcell. The best showings for the year were 19-7 wins over Western Hills and Withrow. Of the extra-league games Covington Holmes was most interesting. The success of the team is due in large measure to the untiring efforts of Coach Ed "Red" Krueck.

THE season opened at Hamilton on September 17 as the "Big Reds" lost a close game, 6 to 0. The complexion of the game might have been different if there had not been a penalty at a critical time. The Hughes line play was the feature of the evening. The next Saturday afternoon, Hughes engaged the Elder Panthers at U. C. emerging the victor 6 to 0. The game was hard fought and featured by long drives. The Hughes score was set up when guard, Alexander, blocked an Elder kick on the 17 yard line, where Yuellig took it over on the second play. Next on the grid card was Purcell which was the blackest mark on the record. Outstanding in the game were the passes of Cal Felix and the defensive playing of the Hughes line.

At Norwood, Hughes lost the services of a fine end, Bernie Wise, whose leg was broken when he was blocked. The Big Reds went on to win 31 to 0. Touchdowns were scored by Yuellig on an end run, Felix on a line plunge, Bittner on an intercepted pass, Felix on an end run, and Felix again on a pass from Yuellig to Felix for 48 yards. Norwood lost yardage on running. In the Covington game, Hughes scored all its 14 points in the first half, both touchdowns made by Felix. Holmes came back in the second half to score on a fumble and on an 80 yard drive. Co-Captain Bob Molter led the hard charging Hughes line assisted by Stier, Riegert, Alexander, Lamantia and Blymeyer, who replaced Wise. Highlight of the game was Chuck Bittner's 65 yard punt.

In the first league game of the season, Hughes rolled over Central Vocational to the tune of 25 to 0. Touchdowns were scored by Yuellig on a 36 yard run, Paul Riegert on a blocked kick, and Tom Scott scored two on runs. Bob Molter blocked one kick to set up a touchdown and recovered another blocked kick for the best line performance.

THE HUGHES BIG REDS HAVE BRAWN AND BRAINS

Hughes played an unbeaten Western Hills team at the Annual Football Double Header at U. C. Hughes put on the pressure in the second half to break a 7-7 tie and win 19-7. Hughes displayed superior offensive and defensive ball throughout the game. Al Goering broke the tie by circling the end for 15 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter. With only one or two minutes remaining, Cal Felix broke loose around end, and cut back for 50 yards and a touchdown.

Walnut Hills Eagles succumbed 27 to 0 to the Big Reds. The Hughes line easily outplayed the Eagles' line and was in control at all times. Touchdowns were made by Al Goering, Bittner on a lateral from Goering, and two by Red Leigh.

Hughes was victorious over its traditional rival, Withrow, 19-7 on a clear Saturday afternoon. Hughes scored twice in the first half. Felix intercepted a Withrow pass and returned 23 yards to the Hughes 43. In a few plays, Hughes was on the Withrow 4. Hughes was penalized 5 yards but Felix passed to Blymeyer for the score. Red Leigh had little trouble going over and Yuellig converted.

At the half, the Hughes line braced to throw back the Withrow attack. In four plays the Tigers scored at the start of the second half and converted. Hughes quickly retaliated by making a 72 yard touchdown. Yuellig scored over center and converted. The Hughes line was in control except for the four plays in which Withrow went over. Co-Captains Felix and Molter were outstanding.

Hughes clinched the title by soundly trouncing Woodward, 36 to 0. Cal Felix got off on two touchdown runs of 55 and 50 yards. Al Goering returned a punt 62 yards for a touchdown after a safety. Tom Scott took a lateral from Bob Molter and went 50 yards. Stan Yuellig plunged 16 yards for another touchdown, and Alexander tackled a Bulldog carrier in the end zone for a safety. Stan Yuellig also converted four times. Thus closed the most successful Hughes season since 1938.

FAST MOVING TEAM TAKES LEAGUE CROWN

In his first year as a Hughes coach, Mr. Paul Bowers developed a championship team built around Captain Tom Scott, the only returning letterman. Coach Bowers introduced intricate plays which made the team click with regularity and developed it into a well-rounded, polished aggregation. At the start of the season, the team was shuffled quite frequently to find the best playing combination. The five who were the most usual starters were Leigh, Scott, Westerkamp, Simon, and Barth. All twelve members of the championship squad were presented with letters at the basketball dinner.

The Big Reds opened the season with an impressive victory over Central Vocational 51-32. Hughes continued undefeated until they dropped a close 29-25 decision to Terrace Park in the third game of the season. Bouncing back from their first defeat, the Big Reds easily defeated Woodward 44-9, gaining their most impressive victory of the year. Meeting a fast Hamilton quintet, the team again tasted defeat. Still not recovered from the stunning Hamilton defeat, Hughes was surprised by Western Hills and dropped their first league game 25-21. On January 21, the Big Reds reached the high mark of the season in downing Walnut Hills 38-20, to continue to set the pace in league play. Hughes extended the league winning streak to three games by taking the measure of Central Vocational and Withrow. After dropping a 36-30 verdict to Elder, the Reds fell into a three game losing streak. The Big Reds returned to the win column with an astounding victory over Western Hills 32-21 to take the league leadership. Hughes easily trounced Walnut Hills, 36-26 on February 25 to take the Public High School League championship.

Outscoring their opponents by thirty-nine points in the season total, the Hughes Reserve Team had a fairly successful season. Led by Captain Ed Compton, the "Little Reds" played better basketball than their record shows. The line-up was frequently shuffled to give each of the boys a chance to participate in a game. The leading scorer was Ed Compton followed by Bob Boeh and Charley Blust. Next year these boys will supplement the returning varsity players on the "Big Red" cage team.

Finishing the season with a league record of eight victories against two losses, Hughes won the Public High School League championship for the first time in three years. Defeated by Western Hills in an early game, Hughes regarded the second game as the championship battle. Hughes took an early lead and won easily 32-21. At the annual league double-header, the championship was decided as Hughes trounced Walnut Hills 36-26 in the final game of the year. In ten games, the Big Reds scored 358 points while their opponents were able to garner only 242 markers. This was the year's best record in the league. Captain Tom Scott, considered by many to have been the league's outstanding player, took individual scoring honors with 115 points in league play.

STARTING the season with the return of only two lettermen, Don Buck and Mike Kennedy, the Hughes swimming team has managed to hold its own against the stronger teams of Walnut and Western Hills. Under Coach Alan Kindschy's supervision, it has won all three of the dual meets held against Walnut Hills, Western Hills and Withrow.

Consistent high scorers on the senior team were Mike Kennedy, freestyler, and versatile Dick Bosse. Seniors Dale Richmond and Vaughn Oswalt have won high honors in diving in the three League Meets.

SWIMMERS CAPTURE ALL DUAL MEETS

The senior team was greatly strengthened by freestylers Bosse, Perdomo, J. Kennedy, Wagner, and backstroker Freuchtemeyer, who have come up from the junior swimmers. They all have finished their first year on the senior team, and have done a fine job. Wagner and Perdomo have teamed up to take victories in the 60 yd. free-style, and J. Kennedy has led the team on the 200 yd. free-style. Bosse, in one season's time, has become one of the main-stays of the senior team.

Twelve members of the senior squad received "H's" as a reward for their work on the team. The letters were presented to Dick Bosse, Don Buck, Ralph Freuchtemeyer, Jerry Kennedy, Mike Kennedy, Vaughn Oswalt, Luis Perdomo, Bert Pichel, Dale Richmond, Sam Todd, Ed Wagner, and senior manager Johnson Schwab. Coach Kindschy has chosen Mike Kennedy and Dick Bosse as next year's co-captains.

Leading the junior team were Peter Petrow, breaststroker, and freshman diver Ed Kennedy. Petrow promises to be a champion swimmer, and, coupled with Kennedy's diving, has taken many first places in junior events. Kennedy's diving was a definite asset to the junior team. Members of the junior team will supplement the 1945 senior team with Manager Robert Bowman.

BOWLERS COMPETE

Led by high-point man B. Simms, the bowling team captured third place in league competition against five other high school groups. Sporting the best single and three game totals, the Big Red Rollers were consistent winners. B. Simms had the best average followed by Bob Evans.

The team included B. Evans, D. Solsman, R. Bloebaum, standing, and G. Schwein, B. Lorenz, and B. Simms, seated.

Capturing the gym title for the eighth successive year, the Hughes gym team swept aside all competition in taking all three interscholastic gym meets. Led by Captain Dick Singerman and Lloyd Griffin, the Big Reds garnered 175½ points in the trio of contests to outdistance second place Woodward by forty-five points. The team was well-balanced with good performances on all the pieces of apparatus. As in previous years, Hughes produced the best performers on the horizontal bar. This year Singerman, Griffin, and LaCroix were the outstanding men in the city on the bar and easily out-pointed all other contestants. Bill Smith was outstanding on the rings. Dick Singerman, setting a new meet record of 176 points, captured individual honors. Lloyd Griffin and Frank Fisbeck finished in a tie for third place, giving Hughes the top four places throughout. Frank Fisbeck an all around good gym man and consistent performer, was elected to captain next year's team. He will be supported by several other returning lettermen.

Since tennis is a late spring sport, after press time, the Annual is printing a review of last year's season. Taking the P.H.S.L. tennis championship for the eighth straight time, the Hughes tennis squad finished with a record of five wins against three losses under the guidance of Coach Alan Kindschy. The team dropped its first two meets to Wyoming and Bellevue, but returned to the court the following week to begin a three meet winning streak. Meeting Wyoming for the second time, the Hughes squad again met defeat. After this defeat, the Big Reds ended the season with 3-2 victory over Covington Holmes. Victories over all the Public high teams assured the championship. Top singles men were Keller, White, a junior and Desserich, while the outstanding doubles teams were the Bumiller-Todd and Reikow-Frazier combinations.

Bud Wagner returns a hard smash. Bob Boeh swings back to serve.

HUGHES TRACKMEN HURDLE, RUN, VAULT

Because of an early press date in 1944, the Annual is printing a resume of the 1943 track season. From last year's team Coach Richert expects at least eight returning men, including Al Morand, Dick Zimmer, Gene Michels, Bob Swartout, Fred Stroehlein, and Captain August Hermes who are expected to be the mainstays of the 1944 team. Placing third in the city championship track and field meet, the Hughes Harriers sported several of the best track men in the city. Going undefeated in four meets, co-captain Earl Holland narrowly missed setting a new 440 yard dash record. The mile relay team, composed of Holland, Haught, Bettner, and Holtkamp, took first place in every meet. Hughes dropped its opener to Western Hills $54\frac{3}{4}$ to $52\frac{1}{4}$. At the Knights of Columbus relays at Dayton, Hughes took fourth place. In a triangular meet at Norwood, the Hughes runners finished a close second to Norwood, trailing the Indians by seven points. The high point of the season, the championship meet, was run at Withrow with Hughes gaining three first places and several seconds in compiling 32 points to finish third place in competition among members of the P. H. S. L.

RED NINE ANSWERS CRY OF "PLAY BALL"

The Big Reds opened the 1943 season against Woodward with a 21-11 victory. They next defeated Central Vocational 31-6. After dropping a 1-0 loss to Withrow, the Big Reds won four of their remaining six games. Walter "Red" Leigh, narrowly missed pitching a no-hit game against Walnut Hills allowing only one hit.

The Hughes team gained a 3-1 victory over Purcell in the city tournament. In the second round play, the Big Reds won 2-0 over Withrow. The championship was a well-played pitchers' battle with Elder edging the Reds 3-1.

Cal Felix, one-third of last year's championship outfield, was chosen to captain the 1944 squad before his induction. Featuring senior short-stop Jack Ruele, the Big Red infield consisted of Tom Scott, Stan Yuellig, and Paul Provenzano, all of whom returned to Hughes for the '44 season.

Stan Yuellig, third baseman, crouches for a low one. Cal Felix is ready for a long fly. Tommy Scott scoops up the ball at second.

Officers that arrange and manage the affairs of the G. A. A. are Elaine Fieler, Vice-Pres.; Virginia Kunold, Sec'y.; Hilda Hartig, Pres.; Vera Tozzer, Publicity Mgr.; and Shirley Hoffman, Treas.

"Shoot!" "Hit it!" "Over here!" are the exclamations heard after school in the girls' gym. The Girls' Athletic Association, better known as the G. A. A., sponsors sports under Miss Violet Balastra's guidance. These girls, interested in athletics, develop socially as well as physically. Rewards are given to those who participate faithfully in the activities; an emblem for 300 points, a pin for 900 points, and a letter for 1250 points. For the first time this year honor teams were chosen. The members are picked for their outstanding playing, cooperation, attendance, and good sportsmanship. A skating party, G. A. A. board meetings for all the high schools at Western Hills and Withrow, a Christmas party, hockey and basketball, and an all-round Play Day were some of the dates on the calendar. Enjoyment, friendships, and physical activity are all benefits the girls derive from belonging to G. A. A.

The Five Jeeps for the third consecutive year landed in first place in the Bowling League. Myrtle Neumann was the high individual scorer with an average of 144.

Members of the Five Jeeps Team are Nadeen Argo, Mgr.; Freda Swango; Capt. Myrtle Neumann; Vera Tozzer; Jean Petrocelli. Runners up were the Ten Pins, namely: Capt. Mary J. Martin, Paula Overbeck, Ruth Benzinger, Blanche Mast, and Janet Schaffner.

G. A. A., GAMES, TEAMS KEEP GIRLS ACTIVE

Each sport has its sport leader and assistant leader who are chosen by the girls who come out for the sport. The sport leader has responsibilities for which she receives extra G. A. A. points. These jobs include keeping attendance, refereeing some games, and seeing that equipment is gotten out and put away. Any girl, except an officer, can be sport leader only once during the year. The officers, elected at the end of the preceding year, are announced at the G. A. A. banquet or picnic at the close of the year.

Before the war a banquet ended the season's events with fun, food and awards. Last year this was changed to a picnic at Lunken Airport Playfield. A summary of each activity was given by the sport leaders, the attendance and G. A. A. merits were recognized, and the new officers announced. An honor girl was usually named. This girl, a senior, was chosen by the gym teachers for her participation in G. A. A., her sportsmanship, her scholastic record, and the cooperation with the leaders and advisers of the groups.

Hockey: S. Green, M. Bolten, R. Fremont, J. Miller, G. Waldron, E. Fieler, V. Haverkos, C. Sautter, V. Bonomoni, T. Williams, J. Blettner.

With Sport Leader Martha Bolten, the girls divided into two teams. Margaret Hatton's team won from Verna Bonomoni's group. The girls tied and lost one at the Hockey Play Day at Western Hills.

Archery was shot in the gym, using the target, bow and arrows. The girls earning G. A. A. points are:

Standing: A. Boettcher, C. Sautter, S. Hauenstein, P. Cooke, S. Hill, G. Waldren, J. Schaffner, A. Hecker, D. Lindeman, R. Fremont, M. Wong.

Seated: S. Green, V. Wagner, N. Kennedy, J. Blettner, Asst. Leader V. Bonomoni, Leader T. Williams, M. Kueffner, R. Hemmert, J. Miller.

Thelma Williams, the Sport Leader, was winner of the tournament with a score of 63: The next highest was 53.

GIRLS SWIM, DANCE AND PLAY BALL

Modern Dancing — S. Silverman, C. Wolf, J. Dangel, G. Reichert, V. Bonomoni, L. Guthman.

The camera caught Mary Pease in her swan dive.

The volleyball season ended with the junior and sophomore teams tied for first place with one defeat each. The girls volleyed the ball back and forth across the net during most of the month of March. Members of the Honor Team for this sport were Hilda Hartig, Elaine Fieler, B. Brill, T. Williams, P. Cooke, L. Huenefeld, V. Kunold, J. Lubke, E. Dieckmann, J. Schaffner, I. Shorter, W. Stallings, T. Ellism.

The Sophomore and Junior Volleyball teams forming this V are S. Hill, J. Schaffner, G. Waldren, V. Bonomoni, E. Robertson, I. Shorter, E. Dieckmann, R. Hemmert, M. Wong, M. Kueffner, A. Boettcher, T. Williams, W. Stallings, M. Windisch, J. Wolfrum, S. Malinsky, V. Kunold, R. Neumann, P. Cooke, S. Hauenstein, V. Haverkos, M. Himovitz, E. Fieler.

One hour a week those girls interested in swimming are allowed to use the boys' pool, Friday after school. Hard practice under Miss Jeanette Nurre's coaching preceded each of the intramural meets. The winter meet resulted in the sophomores on top, followed by the freshmen. Verna Bonomoni was the sport leader.

Row 1: V. Tozzer, T. Williams, V. Kunold, S. Hoffman, B. Wilson.

The feminine version of basketball is less strenuous because of the free throw from center; only one dribble is allowed. Participation in this exciting and active sport sharpens the mind and affords opportunity for plenty of action. The Hughes teams won four out of eight games at the Basketball Play Day, as did Walnut Hills and Withrow. The Honor Team attempted to play a game with the boys, but were beaten 28 to 8. Miss Violet Balastra had charge and Violet Haverkos was the elected leader.

Ready for action are E. Fieler guarding M. Himovitz, S. Malinsky, V. Haverkos, V. Kunold.

The winning team was the Junior, which did not suffer a defeat. The members are: Row 2: M. Himovitz, E. Fieler, V. Haverkos. Row 1: S. Malinsky, M. Dye, V. Kunold.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS ATTRACT GIRLS

Individual sports kept the gym buzzing both mornings and afternoons of the spring in playing off the elimination tournaments. Ping-pong, badminton and shuffle board interested many girls who did not come out for the other G. A. A. activities. Beginning and advanced tennis tournaments were played. Playing for fun and not contests is the purpose of their sports. The participants in these are shown below. Any girl at Hughes is eligible for participation in these games.

TENNIS — Row 2: C. Sautter, M. Bohrer, R. Fremont, V. Kunold, S. Hill, E. Fieler, V. Haverkos, T. Williams. Seated — Row 1: V. Tozzer, H. Hartig, V. Bonomoni, R. Neumann, R. Hemmert, S. Hauenstein.

BADMINTON — Row 3: E. Wehrmann, P. Cooke, F. Merland, V. Wagner, I. Shorter, S. Hauenstein, S. Hill. Row 2: N. Martini, J. Lubke, M. Dye, L. Huenefeld, V. Bonomoni, R. Neuman, M. Bohrer, J. Schaffner, G. Waldren. Row 1: V. Tozzer, R. Hemmert, M. Kueffner, J. Hadlock, J. Blettner, N. Kennedy, H. Hartig.

MODERN DANCING — Row 2: G. Reichert, T. Williams, B. Abramson, R. Fremont, Elaine Wacksman — Sport Leader, C. Wolf. Row 1: A. Rohan, L. Cuthman, C. Sautter, V. Bonomoni, Kuesman, K. Gerhardt, S. Silvermann.

Modern dancing is a way of expressing one's ideas through graceful movements. The girls chose Elaine Wacksman as their sport leader. A symposium was held at Walnut Hills on April 22. Each school had ten minutes to put on a dance program. Miss Nurre accompanied this group by playing the piano for their dancing. Extra rehearsals for the operetta "Babes in Toyland" were necessary in the mornings as well as Monday and Wednesday afternoon.

Kickball started off the G. A. A. schedule for the year. Both color and class team games were planned after the election of Eva Ginzinger as sport leader. A strong junior team outdistanced by three runs a stubborn senior one in the last innings of the championship game. The confined quarters of the gym caused many kicks that hit the ceiling to be either fouls or outs. The girls enjoyed comradeship and exercise from this activity.

Lining up for the start of the race are E. Olmsted, N. Crain, C. Lillard, V. Bonomoni.

Kickball Junior Team: R. Fremont, P. Cooke, S. Malinsky, M. Himovitz, C. Sautter, S. Hauenstein, V. Kunold.

What an audience this ping-pong game has!

They are — Row 2: R. Figg, K. Gerhardt, M. Wong, V. Tozzer, H. Hartig.
Row 1: I. Ellison, B. Brill, R. Fremont, H. Clark, M. Himovitz, S. Malinsky, E. Wehrmann, A. Boettcher, T. Williams, V. Kunold.

Close and exciting games led to the finals in the ping-pong and shuffleboard tournament. Shuffleboard singles and doubles, besides ping-pong singles and badminton singles and doubles were played off by elimination. Results were posted on the gym board. The girls who signed up for the individual sports played off the contests under their own arrangements before the specified time or else they had to forfeit the game. Thus the number of participants decreased till at last only one girl remained, the winner.

Playing shuffle board are E. Wehrmann, S. Malinsky, M. Himovitz, H. Hartig, V. Tozzer, E. Fieler, V. Haverkos, V. Kunold.

The Search that Never Ends

In the industrial life of America research has been of constantly increasing importance. Today it is a national resource, for the research of industrial and college laboratories is proving its value in war.

The Telephone was born in a laboratory, a result of researches in electricity and acoustics, speech and hearing. And scientists have continued their search unceasingly—learning more about these subjects, to make the telephone better and better.

At Bell Telephone Laboratories the search will never end. Since before Pearl Harbor its scientists and engineers have concentrated on products for our armed forces. But when this work is happily over they will be ready to continue their developments for the needs of peace.

A GOOD COMBINATION

Huzites Know — "Herb" and "Gertz" combine their musical talents to really "mellow the tempo", just as The Westerman Print Company in cooperation with the Hughes Annual Staff has produced this portrayal of "Hughes In Our Time" that honestly "rates".
